MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock when Mr. Irving Phillips of Lawrence and Miss Catherine Coyne, one of the popular young ladies of Pawtucketville, were united in the bonds of wedlock. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of St. Patrick's church by Rev. Fr. Callahan. The best man was Mr. Joseph Robinson of Lawrence and the bridesmaid, Miss Winifred Coyne, sister of the bride.

The bride looked charming in a costume of pearl silk with Duchesse trimming, while the bridesmaid was equally stunning in a creation of violet satin. Both ladies carried beautiful bouquets of local roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 27 Third avenue, Pawtucketville, where Collins, the florist, converted the parlor and other rooms into a bower of beauty. A wedding repast was served by Page company and the young couple during the evening received the congratulations of many friends including a number from Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were the recipients of many beautiful presents. They left the city on their honeymoon soon after 8 o'clock and on their return will make their home in Lawrence, where Mr. Phillips is employed by the Boston & Northern Street Railway company.

THE ROOSEVELT PARTY

SPEZIA, Italy, April 7.—Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt began today the carriage drive along the sunny slopes of the Liguarian Alps, the road they followed as bride and bridegroom 24 years ago. The day was as beautiful as could be wished. They expected to reach Genoa late Sunday. A carriage was in waiting when the Roosevelts arrived here by train from Rome at 8.30 o'clock this morning.

Their baggage was quickly transferred and no time was lost in making the start. A little group of Italians, who with bare heads watched the two from respectful distance were rewarded with smiles and as they drove away Col. Roosevelt looked back and waved his hand in farewell. Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt appeared in excellent health and rare good spirits.

SAILORS KILLED

Schooner Was Attacked by Blacks

VICTORIA, B. C., April 7.—The recruiting schooner St. Joseph was attacked by blacks in the New Hebrides near Mallico early in March and three sailors were killed and two wounded. The survivors succeeded in rescuing the wounded men and cut loose the anchor and made away. The blacks said to have been in revenge for the carrying off of native women by the crew.

There is much unrest in the New Hebrides and recently several barbaric incidents were reported. At Ambian recently a chief died and all his wives were killed and eaten. The heads of the victims were recovered by French residents and sent to the police.

J. R. McPherson, a trader, who returned to Sydney, told of a tribal fight seen by him in northern Australia. The crew of blacks, engaged in gathering trepang, were attacked by hostile natives using spears and one man was transfixed. The blacks clashed and

OVERCHARGED THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 7.—Practically admitting that it had overcharged the state to the extent of thousands of dollars under the regime of the old state dispensary in South Carolina, the whiskey firm of William Lannahan & Son of Baltimore has paid to Attorney General Lyon, $14,000 in settlement of "over judgments" which were found by the dispensary commission at its sitting last fall. By the payment, a claim of $6000 against the commission by the court by an over judgment of $23,000 found by the commission are wiped out. Coincident with the payment of the $14,000 an injunction secured against the firm by the commission to prevent the collection of sums owed it by several county dispensaries of the state was dissolved.

SUMMONED TO COURT

BOSTON, April 7.—Because he baptised a woman who lacked a year of attaining her majority, Rev. E. D. Jansson, a Baptist missionary at Wausau, Finland, has been summoned to court by the police authorities and it is expected that the clergyman will be fined. In reporting the occurrence to the American Baptist Foreign Mission society which has its headquarters here, Mr. Jansson writes:

"As one of these baptisms was a young woman twenty years of age only and, according to law, I had no right to baptise her until she was twenty one, the police and the authorities have entered an action against me. Action is not often entered in such cases but now it has happened and I expect to be fined."

Mr. Jansson also wrote that the present proceedings against him makes the eighteenth time that he has been "before the different tribunals for the gospel's sake in Finland."

SAM WALTER FOSS CLUB

The Sam Walter Foss Literary club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Ella L. Blake, 124 Shaw street, with Mrs. Blake and Mrs. Arthur McLeur as hostesses. The president, Mrs. A. F. French, opened the business meeting and after a short session Mrs. Blake in charge of the program for the afternoon, introduced Rev. J. C. Wilson of the Chelmsford Street F. B. church, who gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "Miriam of Biblical History." He dealt with the great acts of her life, particularly as regards the inspiration given to the Hebrews by her during their exodus from Egypt and the crossing of the Red Sea, and spoke of the influence of her life generally upon all with whom she came in touch.

After the talk by Mr. Wilson, vocal solos were given by Mrs. Frank Burgess and Miss Ruth Jamieson, and readings by Mrs. Belle Harrington and little Miss Esther McLeur. Mrs. Blanche McDonald was the efficient accompanist. A vote of thanks was given the entertainers, after which a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. O. A. Foster, Mrs. G. A. Dickey, Miss Blanche McDonald and Mrs. William E. Porter.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Frank K. Marshall, 78 Warwick street, April 20th.

Under Roof of Big Car Barn at Saybrook, Conn.

SAYBROOK, Conn., April 7.—The roof of the Shore Line Trolley Co.'s car barn at this place gave way suddenly this morning and crashed to the ground floor, carrying with it several men who were at work on it and burying beneath it a number of others who were in the structure. It was stated that ten or twelve men were in the wreckage. Six persons were removed immediately after the roof had fallen, among them being Jerry Kahlan of Springfield, Mass., the superintendent at the barn and William Hood of Chester, Conn. The others were a Swede and three Italians whose names were not learned. Kahlan was the most seriously hurt, his back and one leg being broken. It is feared his injuries may prove fatal. Hood's injuries so far as could be determined consisted largely of cuts and bruises. Some fifty men were employed about the structure which was nearing completion but a number of these hurried away for assistance immediately after the accident and it could not be stated definitely how many were caught under the fallen roof. It was believed that the number at the outside would not be more than twelve. The victims were placed on a special train and sent to the New Haven hospital for treatment.

The cause of the accident has not been determined. A number of up-rights within the building supported the roof and it is thought that some of these either gave way or were accidentally knocked from under the roof which then unable to bear the weight on it caved in.

REV. FR. SMITH

To be Honored by His Lowell Friends

Tonight at the school hall of the Sacred Heart parish, the friends of Rev. Fr. Smith, O. M. I., throughout the city will meet to arrange for his reception on Monday evening, when he will return to the city in time for the parish reunion at Associate hall in the evening.

Rev. Fr. Smith was very popular not only with the people of his own parish but those who knew him outside. He was also highly esteemed by the members of the press who had met him and his opinion is that had he not been a clergyman he would have been an editor on account of the keen interest he has always shown in the mission of the press.

His Lowell friends while regretting his departure rejoice at his appointment as provincial of the Oblate Order. He is a worthy successor to the Very Rev. Fr. Fallon, O. M. I., who has been made a bishop.

MADE BIG FORTUNE

Somerville Woman, an Invalid,

BOSTON, April 7.—The will of the late Martha R. Hunt of Somerville, filed in the Middlesex county probate court yesterday, disposes of an estate estimated at about $900,000, giving $284,000 to charitable, educational or other public institutions, about $100,000 to relatives and friends and dividing the residue equally among five public beneficent institutions.

Though for 40 years past she had been confined to her home by feeble health, she managed her affairs so well that her inheritance had increased fourfold at the time of her death. She lived a simple, unostentatious life, giving generously to many worthy objects from year to year.

The largest single bequest, $85,000, goes to the American Unitarian association, $40,000 of it for the general fund, $5,000 for the ministerial fund and $35,000 as residuary legatees after two life annuities.

The next largest bequest, $15,000 each, go to the Somerville library, which gets $12,000 for the permanent fund and $3,000 for works of art; Winchester home for aged women, Charlestown; Tuskegee institute, Concord and the Cottage hospital, Baldwinville.

Beneficiaries to $10,000 each are Calhoun colored school, Ala.; First Parish church, Concord; home for incurables, Dorchester; Land a Hand society, Massachusetts general hospital, to be devoted to amusement and entertainment of patients at McLean asylum.

DEPENDABLE PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for thirty years and today hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

NARROW ESCAPE

Woman and Children Had Close Call

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 7.—Mrs. William M. Henry of 574 East Spruce street and her three small children had a narrow escape from death in a fire which gutted the rear apartments and attic of their home yesterday morning.

They were alone in the house, as Mr. Henry, who is a commercial traveler, was absent in the west on a business trip and the family of Elmer E. Jondrow, who occupy the lower part of the house, were visiting in Canada. Mrs. Henry and children escaped in their night clothes while the house was in flames.

Fortunately her three children, Mills, aged 11, Mervon 10 and Leonard 6, were sleeping in the same room and she hurried them to the stairs and they were rescued.

Mills Henry proved a hero. "I'll pull the alarm, mama," he cried. "I can do it." Barefooted and clothed only in his nightgown he dashed down Spruce street and through Canton, to Lake avenue on which box 241 is situated. He looked for the escape saw none and smashed his tiny fist into the glass regardless of cuts. Snatching the key he opened the door and pulled the hook.

Kind neighbors gave Mrs. Henry and her children shelter. A providential incident saved the two boys. They usually sleep in a rear bedroom, but their mother got nervous after the Jondrows went away and moved the boys into her own room to sleep. Their bedroom was burned out and they would undoubtedly have perished had they been there.

The property loss amounts to $4000, including building and contents. The house was owned by Albert L. Duke of Beacon street.

THE AMES BOOM

"Joe" Legare is Working Hard

BOSTON, April 7.—Secretary Legare, official custodian of the Butler Ames boom for United States senator, which came to a rather sudden end in January, is coming back to Boston full of hope and with a purpose. The latter is stated by Senator Nason to be the advancement of Congressman Ames' senatorial interests.

Senator Nason's enthusiasm for Congressman Ames is just as ardent and glowing as ever. He says the boom is growing so fast that the presence of Secretary Legare is actually demanded. If a correct roster of the recruits is to be taken for the commander-in-chief, Essex county is still safe, according to Senator Nason, and he will so report to the congressman's secretary.

The latter left Washington last night, and arrived in Boston this morning, and the first visit he will make will be to the state house. After a conference with Senator Nason and Representative Stevens of Dracut, who has charge of the house end of the Ames' campaign, he will journey onward to Lowell, where some hopeful republicans are waiting to know if Mr. Ames is to be a candidate for congress in the fifth district, as well as a candidate for senator to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge.

GRAND JURY

REPORTED NUMBER OF INDICTMENTS AT CONCORD

CONCORD, N. H., April 7.—The grand jury in the superior court reported 18 indictments yesterday afternoon and though none appeared in the list in the Fellows murder case it is believed that two persons were indicted. Several hours were spent in examination of Mrs. Fellows, her daughter, Mrs. Albert Ball, wife of the man who had worked on the murdered man's farm; Louis Clark, a clerk in his grocery, and John B. Hammond, a neighbor of the Fellows family.

County Solicitor Clifford refused to state whether indictments had been found in the case or not.

"I will say, however, that two indictments were found, which the court ordered kept secret by my request." When asked when they will be made public Solicitor Clifford said: "Not until after I get in touch with Atty.-Gen. Eastman." The police officials disclaim all knowledge of arrests made or intended.

Held Delightful "Round-up" Last Evening

The D. L. Page Employees association held their first "round-up" in Colonial hall last evening and everyone connected with the chain of Page establishments from Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Page down to "Creamery" Day from up Middlesex street was present. The ladies were stunningly gowned while the men were strong on appearance as well. Hibbard's orchestra furnished a delightful program for a dance order of 20 numbers. During the intermission a real Page collation was served by the D. L. Page Co. and the employees demonstrated the fact that they weren't a bit afraid to tackle their own goods. The dance orders were pretty souvenirs, bearing the likeness of Mr. Page on the cover. The guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Page, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cole and Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Evans.

The general manager was W. J. Johnson, who is connected with the Merrimack street candy shop. Misses Agnes Burns, Mirinea Bachelard, Merrimack street candy shop. ## REV. DR. McCONNELL

Before the Y. M. C. A. on
Civic Righteousness

Dr. Francis J. McConnell, president of De Pauw university, Indiana, gave the first lecture in this season's Y. M. C. A. Bible course at the First Baptist church, last night. His subject was "The Bible and Civic Righteousness." He said in part:

of individual life. First of all, it is the Christian's duty to cultivate more and more, just a plain, everyday spirit of thoughtfulness.

"It is true that the great community problems we are dealing with today are many of them new. The frontiers of our American nation, today, are in the cities. Confronted with that situation we need to have, more and more, a spirit of thoughtfulness. Because we cannot master some technical problems, we should learn to have confidence in those who can. We are suffering a great deal from snap judgment and reliance upon impulse, that is doing us a great deal of harm.

"It will not do to rely merely upon a spirit of good will. If a tramp stands at my door, it may be the best thing I can do for him, to send him along. We cannot solve these problems, and the only thing we can do is to trust those who are experts. In your Y. M. C. A. work, you should get the best man you can, and then trust him. Take the problem of the water supply. The old wooden bucket won't do in these days, because there are too many people around, and the old wooden bucket is apt to be loaded. So it is with a great many social problems. If our impulse carries us far enough to pay an expert to do the work, well and good.

"We cannot settle the tariff question merely by leaving it to the people. We must leave it to a commission of trained experts.

"The only way you can deal with some problems of civic life, is to trust some expert who has made a study of the situation.

"Not only do we need the spirit of thoughtfulness, but we need more and more reliance upon that old-fashioned something which we call good manners; a thoughtful consideration of other folks; really looking upon other people as if they were entitled to a square deal; getting rid somewhat of our brusqueness, and of our disregard of others' rights. The immediate decisive factor that brought about the great revolutions in the world's history was bad manners on the part of somebody. In the days of the French revolution there had been economic outrage for many years; but what brought about the break was the haughtiness and the bad manners and contempt that those of the old regime showed toward the common people. I think if our churches today would preach more and more the quality of a certain kind of consideration for the rights of others, that simple, old-time doctrine would do a great deal of good. The trouble is that men get abysmal between them. The man newly come to wealth is apt to have bad manners. He shows his contempt for those around him, and we have the beginnings of trouble. I have often thought of the part that women play as economic factors. The desires of women for luxury makes the struggle for wealth all the more intense.

There is no patent scheme that will lead us out of our difficulties. Every man needs to be on his guard to see that he does himself, the very best that he can. The man that is an employer on a small scale, need not say very much about the trusts if he himself is not doing what is square. We need a new civic conscience; we need to rebuke men that have control of great corporations and use them in a wrong way. But remember that when every man down along the line is doing the same thing, it will not do merely to strike at the man who happens to be doing it on a larger scale. Very often a man starts with a certain method in a country store and works it higher and higher, until he becomes a public menace. If we could get down to the bottom of things, the great concerns are often not so great offenders as the smaller concerns. But the good, pious man who goes to church is willing to have the application made to the man higher up, but not to have it made to him, farther down the line. If every man in business will set himself to work to make his a straight business, he can bring in the kingdom of God a great deal more quickly. Let us not say that the only great sinners are those that carry on their business on a large scale. Let us not concern ourselves too much with John D. Rockefeller; let us concern ourselves a little more with John Smith, especially if John Smith happens to be myself. We need to train our understanding in this matter more and more.

"We do not always see how subtle temptation is. I know a clergyman who wrote an article for the Forum, in which he made a defense of the trusts. Nobody asked him to do it; but a few weeks later, there came to him a letter from a trust magnate, expressing his appreciation and enclosing a check for $200. The man took it, and kept it. He wrote the article without any thought of receiving that $200; but is there any danger of that minister changing his mind on the trust question after that? It is probable that the man who sent the check wanted to see to it that that writer's ability was packed down safely on his side.

"Another man made a defense, in a sermon, of a great railroad system. His remarks were quoted in the newspapers, and there came to the minister a pass from the railroad company. He took the pass, and was much pleased about the thought of receiving that $200; but is there any danger of that minister changing his mind on the trust question after that? It is probable that the man who sent the check wanted to see to it that that writer's ability was packed down safely on his side.

"I suppose there are very few people in the world actually bribed outright. Things are made pleasant for a man, and without asking for things, he finds himself practically committed to that side. If we could rid some of these moral questions of their economic side, we could get along much more rapidly.

"I wrote an article some time ago in which I tried to point out that in dealing with the liquor question, the great trouble is not so much with the man selling rum or the man wanting a drink, as with the allied interests. I got a letter from a man who wanted to know how much the whiskey trust paid me for writing that article. The letter-head showed that the man was in the glass business. I suppose he did not think that I, as a minister, would have sense enough to see through that. There is nothing wrong with the glass business, of course, but we can see how it might have a close connection with the liquor question.

"I knew a man once who was very rabid in his utterances against the liquor traffic, until there came into his possession a vineyard. In California, I never saw a man's eyes opened so suddenly.

"Until our conscience is aroused, on these things, there is no need for us to try to do much. Civic righteousness is simply righteousness applied to civic affairs. The Bible is full of it. I do not believe that any man would have to go out of business, because he does his business honestly. For the time being, he may have to sacrifice something, but I do not believe he will have to quit his business. There is enough chance in this world for a man to do business honestly. We may have to take a little less, but we are not sent into this world to get it all. We are sent here to do business honestly, to take what comes to us. There is no reason why a man should make a tangled situation an excuse for wrong doing."

MUSICAL COMEDY

At St. Joseph's College
Last Evening

The delightful two-act play, "La Fille du Sonneur de Cloches" was cleverly presented by local amateurs at St. Joseph's college under the auspices of L'Association du Notre Dame de Bonsecours. Mrs. Marie M. Jacques had general charge and Mr. Wilfred Calise, Jr. directed. Those acting were Mrs. Omer Smith, Miss Antoinette Montmarquet, Miss Yvonne Montmarquet, Mrs. Octave Labrecque, Miss Leda Delisle, Angeline Blodien, Adele Roy, Alvine Jodoin and Genevieve Dupuis. Pretty village maidens, who sang and danced, were impersonated by Misses Anna Martel, Fleur-Ange Gignac, Loretta Ryan, Berengere Roy, Yvonne Belleville, Georgianna Bibeault, Ruth Delisle and Priscilla Demers.

In the entr'acte, Misses Lillian Chaloux, a graceful young miss with a sweet voice, sang and danced, accompanied at the piano by Miss Winifred Chaloux. Mr. Philippe T. Levesque also sang, accompanied by Mr. Arthur J. Martel. Warm ovations were given both numbers.

The Canadian orchestra, E. Champagne, leader, was in attendance and played a delightful program. The officers of the A. G. Cadets served as ushers.

ANNUAL MEETING
OF FIRST BAPTIST SOCIETY HELD
LAST NIGHT

The annual meeting of the First Baptist society was held in the church last night. Mr. A. G. Pollard was chosen moderator.

The annual reports of the assessors, treasurer and music committee were read, showing a favorable condition; the society's year closed with all bills paid and a balance of $154.44 in the treasury, besides the $200 to be expended in repairs upon the lot in the Lowell cemetery, owned by the society.

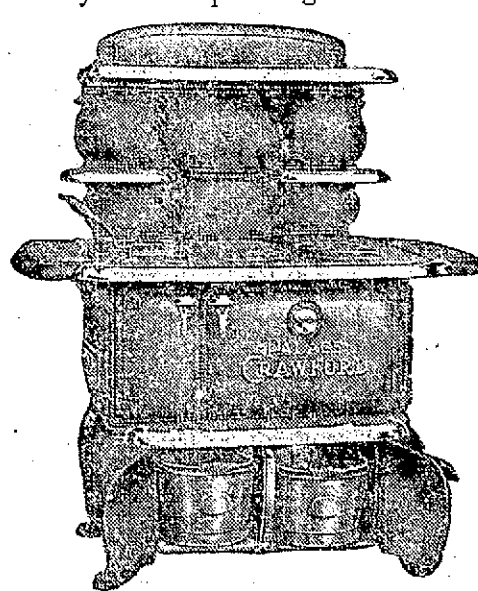

Officers were elected as follows: Clerk, Edward W. Trull; treasurer, George F. Wagner; assessors, Henry C. Fuller, Frederick J. Flemings, Frank A. Bowen; auditors, Arthur J. French, Harry Stocker; committee on music, Wm. T. Sheppard, Harry Stocks, Gen. H. Taylor.

Appropriations were voted as follows: Pulpit supply, $3000; one month's vacation, music, $1360; care of building, a sum sufficient.

It was voted that the pastor, Rev. S. W. Cummings be given leave of absence on Sunday in May to attend the World's Sunday school convention in Washington and that $50 be appropriated for his expenses.

two-damper range

The cost of the food spoiled by mistakes in regulating the ordinary two-damper ranges amounts to a large sum.

A. E. O'HEIR &amp; CO., 16 Merrimack Street.

The Single Damper of the Crawford affords absolute fire and oven control by one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check;" the range does the rest.

The Oven of the Crawford has cup-joint heat flues which heat everywhere alike and make it the quickest and surest of bakers.

The Two Hods (patented) in the base—one for ashes instead of the old clumsy ash pan—one for coal, is a great trouble-saving feature.

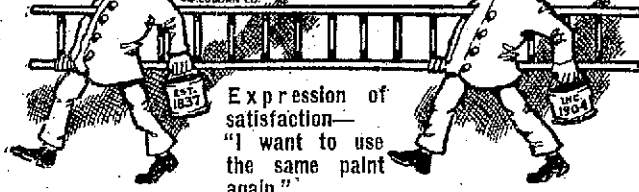

Gas Ovens and Broilers above or at end of range, if desired.

PASSED SENATE

Rep. Erson B. Barlow's Corporation Tax Bill

Went to Third Reading in the Senate Yesterday by Vote of 22 to 11—Bill Will Undoubtedly Become Law

Rep. Erson B. Barlow of this city was the happiest man in the state house yesterday afternoon, for his corporation tax bill which, if it becomes law, will add $100,000 annually to the revenue of the city of Lowell, was passed to a third reading in the senate yesterday by a vote of 22 to 11. The opposition was of a negative nature and Rep. Barlow is confident that the bill will be engrossed and become law.

The bill, it will be recalled, was turned down by the committee on taxation but was substituted and passed in the house over the adverse report of the committee after a big fight.

SMOOTH PAVING

Work Will Begin About May First

Smooth paving work for 1910 will be begun about the first of May.

Newell F. Putnam, superintendent of streets was asked yesterday if he would start on smooth paving this month and he replied that he thought it would be reached about the first of May.

As soon as the $65,000 for smooth paving was signed by the mayor, Mr. Putnam sent notices to abutters where smooth paving is proposed. It is necessary to give the abutters 30 days' notice. The Electric Light People, Gas company, Boston & Northern Street Railway company and others especially interested in the work have been notified and if the weather holds good there'll be something doing by the first of May.

Mr. Putnam said he would start the ball rolling in Prescott street. The Prescott street job is the only one in the centre of the city and it will be done as quickly as possible. The street will be closed while the paving is going on.

BADLY INJURED

MAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM BEING KILLED

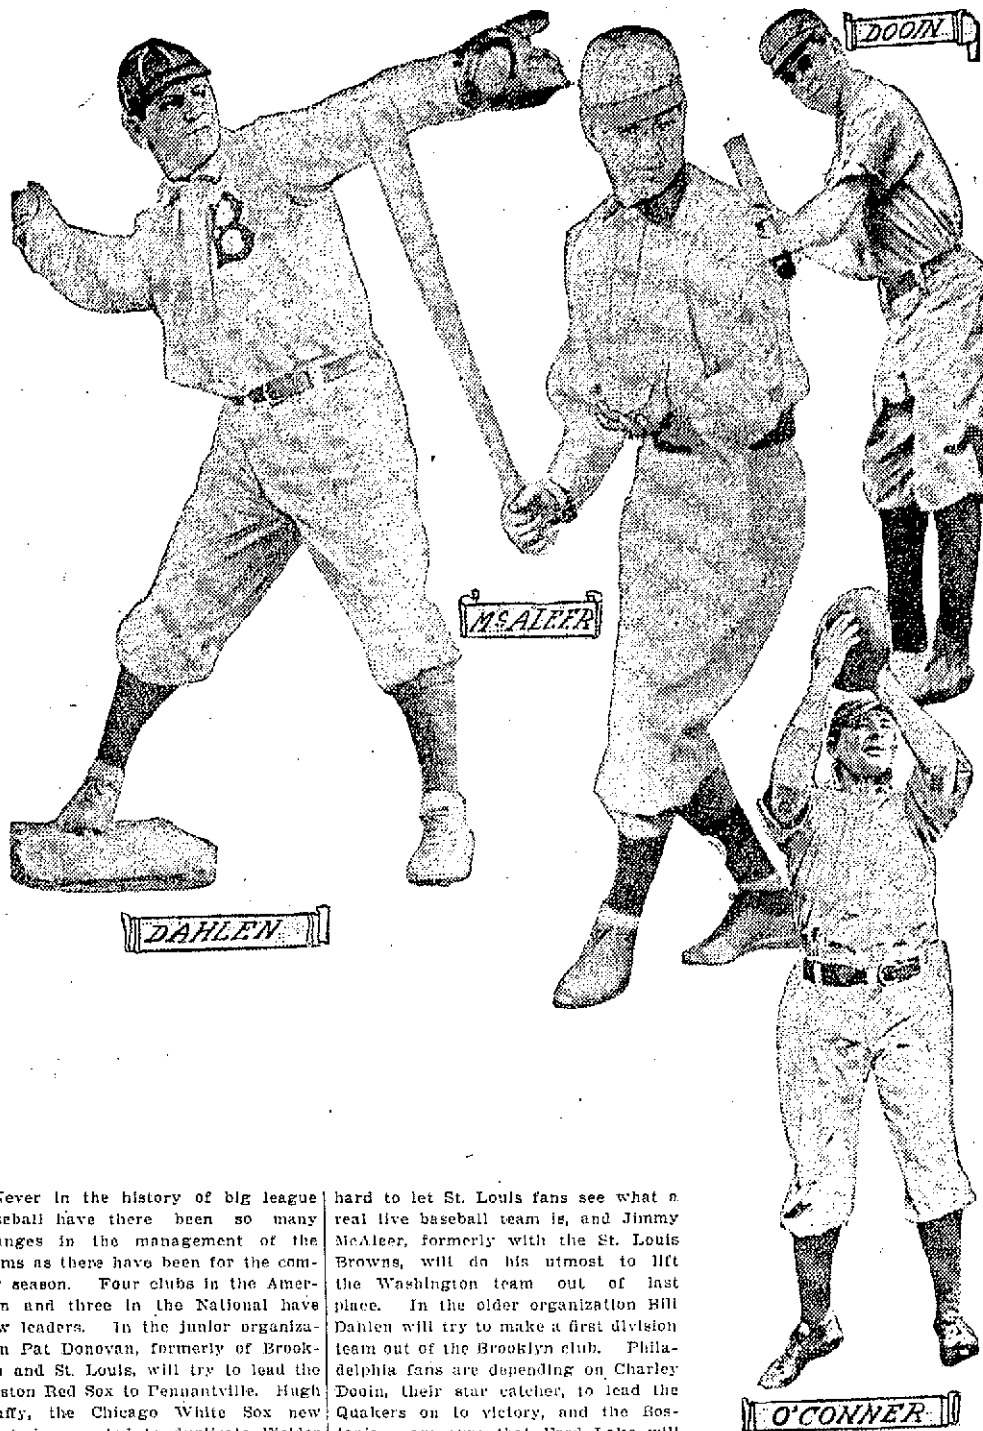

Joseph Morin, aged about 50 years, had a narrow escape from being killed about 1:30 o'clock this morning as a result of stepping from a moving train while it was passing through the North yard in the vicinity of the school street crossing. Morin is now at St. John's hospital, suffering from severe lacerations about the scalp and other minor bruises.

The man boarded the train in Nashua and when near the school street crossing in this city endeavored to get off but lost his balance and fell to the ground. Fortunately he landed outside the tracks and thus escaped being crushed beneath the wheels. His head struck one of the up rails, rendering him semi-conscious. The ambulance removed him to St. John's hospital where several stitches were taken in the cut.

Miss Hortense Tabor, directress; Miss Helen Bellamy, pianist; Mrs. Albert S. Park and Mrs. Alfred T. Howe, combs; Miss Ida Cummings, cello; Miss Ina McKinley and Miss Ethel Reed, violins; Miss Martha Harris, violin; Miss Alice Seaton, cymbals; Miss Grace Mansfield, drum; Miss Louella Conley, bells.

NEW MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL MANAGERS WHOSE WORK WILL BE CLOSELY WATCHED

Never in the history of big league baseball have there been so many changes in the management of the teams as there have been for the coming season. Four clubs in the American and three in the National have new leaders. In the Junior organization Pat Donovan, formerly of Brooklyn and St. Louis, will try to lead the Boston Red Sox to Pennsylvania. Hugh Duffy, the Chicago White Sox new pilot, is expected to duplicate Fielder Jones' success and show his heels to his rivals. Jack O'Connor will try hard to let St. Louis fans see what a real live baseball team is, and Jimmy McAllen, formerly with the St. Louis Browns, will do his utmost to lift the Washington team out of last place. In the older organization Hill Dahler will try to make a first division team out of the Brooklyn club. Philadelphia fans are depending on Charley Doolin, their star catcher, to lead the Quakers on to victory, and the Bostonians are sure that Fred Lake will make a better showing than his predecessors of the last few years.

TWO MARKSMEN

Lieuts. Burns and McMaster Leave Militia

Second Lieut. James E. Burns of Co. C and Second Lieut. Harry C. McMaster of Co. K have tendered their resignations as members of the state militia, the demands of business necessitating their retirement, much to the regret and that of every militiaman in Lowell.

Lieut. Burns is known all over the United States as one of the country's best shots. He was last year a member of the Massachusetts team at the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, and has during his military service with Co. C been prominently identified with that feature of military endeavor. During his entire service he has been a member of the Co. C rifle team. He has been second lieutenant only a comparatively short time.

Lieut. McMaster is one of the most able men in the service of the state forces. His long service, dating back some 17 years, his knowledge of everything pertaining to the duties not only of the enlisted man but of the line officer, his executive ability and his personal popularity make him one whom the service can ill afford to lose.

Lieut. McMaster was for many years a member of the old cavalry troop of Chelmsford, serving as first sergeant. Upon the formation of Co. K in this city, he became one of the first members and was shortly made first sergeant, a position he held until his promotion by the company to the second lieutenantcy last fall.

The resignation of neither officer has yet been accepted. This is due probably to the fact that there is a major's commission vacant in the Sixth Infantry, and that to fill it every line commission must be filled before an election can take place. For the past year, owing to vacancies in the line, it has been impossible to hold the election, and it is thought that now that this has been remedied, no one will be permitted to resign until the majorship is filled.

The two candidates for the majorship are Capt. Gardner W. Pearson, commander of Co. C of this city, and Capt. Taylor of Marlboro. Both have seen long service in the state forces and each has a large personal following.

It has been stated on excellent authority that Capt. Walter R. Jeyes, commander of Co. G of this city, who was lately appointed armorer here, will not resign his commission, as at first reported. The law does not demand such resignation, and the headquarters of the regiment consider Capt. Jeyes too valuable a man to lose if he can be prevailed upon to remain in the service.

The Sixth Infantry will go into camp at South Framingham on the old camp grounds, July 22. The ninth will hold field maneuvers at Pine Plains, N. Y. in August.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Saskatchewan and the natural resources, attracted his attention so that he secured certain sections. It is his intention to raise wheat.

He has spent much of his time during the past winter in getting the necessary tools for up-to-date farming and has purchased a pair of heavy draft horses. He claims that his health is much better in the northwest than anywhere else. He will stay until November.

PRESIDENT LEGUIA, SCENES IN LIMA AND NATIVES OF PERU

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Advices from Lima, Peru, continue to flow into the secretary of state's office telling of the warlike preparations of Peru. The Peruvian navy consists of the Lima, a cruiser of 1,700 tons; the Almirante Grau and the Colonel Bolognesi, each of 2,200 tons and 24 knots speed. The Peruvian army numbers approximately the same as that of Peru, but the national guard is said to consist of 30,000 men. What proportion of this number would be available in case of war, however, is problematical. The Peruvian navy consists of a torpedo launch and transport.

HERE THEY ARE, THE MEMBERS OF THE STORY TELLING CLUB OF WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, April 7.—It has remained for Mrs. Nicholas Longworth to set all Washington agog with her latest suggestion of helping the lawmakers kill time between fights in congress. Mrs. Longworth has organized a story telling club, with a minstrel club as a side issue, and has secured the assistance of some twenty leading members of the senate and congress. Story telling contests with proper prizes for the best story of the evening is her idea. Storytellers are to be used, and if any dispute comes up the judges can turn to the notes and read the stories over again.

Once a month a minstrel show is to be given during the sessions of congress, but the invited guests will be few and very select. Mrs. Longworth is preparing to sail for Europe to join her father, Colonel Roosevelt, but in the meantime a sample story telling evening is to be held, and it is said the list of guests has been limited to thirty-five.

CAREER OF CRIME

Spencer Says He Committed a Number of Burglaries

SPRINGFIELD, April 7.—Laying his crimes to love of excitement and a mania for stealing caused by an injury to his head in boyhood, Bertram Gage Spencer, the young clerk arrested Tuesday, yesterday broke down under a 24 hours' merciless grilling and confessed that he was the masked burglar who terrorized Springfield for two years, reaching the climax of his wild career by murdering Miss Martha B. Blackstone last Thursday evening.

Spencer bared an amazing criminal career to the police, the latter say. He admitted having committed 15 or more burglaries in Springfield, three in Greenfield and one in Brattleboro, Vt. The details of his greatest crime—that of last week—the police withheld for use at his trial.

Spencer's admissions make it apparent that for cool daring and audacity he has few equals. His robberies were never specifically planned. Walking along a street he would reach a house whose inmates' attention was momentarily attracted by an outside light, an accident or a small fire, and would enter and steal himself, later appearing with drawn revolver and demanding money. Or he would hide under a bed in a woman's room, watch her take off her jewelry for the night and then boldly demand it.

While on the street Spencer usually wore an overcoat and a derby which, before entering a house, he would secrete near the structure, meanwhile donning a mask and slouch hat that he bore in his inside pocket. The robbery committed he would replace mask and soft hat in his pockets, don his derby and overcoat and calmly walk away.

One of his most daring exploits was in the summer of 1908 when, walking along the street he was attracted by a brilliant light and the hum of conversation through the open windows of a house where a card party was in progress. Leaning on the window sill he thrust his revolver into the room and demanded forced contributions.

His confession as given out by the police begins with the Luddington robbery in which he hid under a bed, saw a woman while dressing take off two diamond rings and hide them and later crawled out and forced her to hand them to him. While living on Seventh street, Springfield, he entered the house of Dr. R. P. M. Ames across the street and stole some silverware and jewelry.

In March 1909, he was attracted by a crowd in front of the house of N. R. Hively, 22 Brookline street and seized his opportunity to hide himself in the house.

In another instance, to intimidate a woman whose apartments he had entered he shot out the lights and escaped when she threatened to attack him. Another time in the house of A. H. Rogers, 22 Temple street, he hid in a closet until the inmates had retired, then confronted the daughter of the house, Miss "Dell" Rogers, and her and made her accompany him to the kitchen. Then as he left with $2 and some silverware, he released her.

In the home of L. J. Power, Pearl street, he made his way softly to the top floor where he found two maid-servants. He assured them that he was a small boy in Lebanon, Conn., his native town, he began to steal at the age of nine, rifling the pockets of his school mates and robbing his parents of small sums. Later he held up young women on the highways and entered houses while still a youth. He spent some time on a naval training ship and then traveled about the country, his thefts covering a wide range of territory. By engaging in legitimate occupations by day he always escaped detection. In San Francisco he was a witness of the earthquake horrors.

Walker was discharged from the relief hospital yesterday but before he was released he was taken to the hospital for the insane and later turned over to the police. He was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with being a fugitive from justice.

Spencer in his confession told the police that he had an inordinate love for jewelry and other luxuries. This was the only clue that came into the hands of the police. It was through this clue that he was discovered.

for newspaper notoriety, made a trip of motivation that urged him on to crime after crime.

Despite his large number of robberies, his plunder in the aggregate amounted to little more than $300, of which about $125 was in money. Throughout his career his young wife apparently told the stories that he told her of the sources from which he obtained his loot. There were, generally, that he had picked up a bargain in an auction room.

As a husband, Spencer was most exemplary. This was true also of his private life in so far as it related to sobriety and personal habits. Spencer, while admitting the murder of Miss Blackstone, said that he had not intended to shoot her but had lost control of himself when she repeatedly shrieked. Even then, he asserted, he had fired only to frighten her and the three other women confronting him in the Dor house, into silence.

After his confession Spencer was arraigned in the police court and was held without bail for further hearing April 15. He will probably be held for the May term of the grand jury. Spencer told the police that he had experienced no qualms of conscience from his crimes. The only thing which caused him any worry, he said, was the loss of a locket bearing his initials, which he dropped outside of a house which he had entered. It was through this locket that he was discovered.

In his confession Spencer revealed a career of almost life long crime. Following a blow on the head while he was a small boy in Lebanon, Conn., his native town, he began to steal at the age of nine, rifling the pockets of his school mates and robbing his parents of small sums. Later he held up young women on the highways and entered houses while still a youth. He spent some time on a naval training ship and then traveled about the country, his thefts covering a wide range of territory. ## President Cancels Visit to Indianapolis

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Taft has cancelled his visit to Indianapolis on May 5. While no statement has been issued in regard to this decision it is believed to be the direct result of the events at the Indiana state republican convention yesterday.

It is not even admitted at the White House that the president had a definite engagement to visit Indianapolis, although despatches from that city several days ago announced that the president would be there from 12.45 p. m. till midnight May 5.

In view of the circumstances surrounding yesterday's convention of the Indiana republicans it was said by friends of the administration yesterday that if the president spoke at Indianapolis at all he would more than likely feel compelled to express again his well known views regarding the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. It was argued that if the president should do this it might be interpreted adversely to Senator Beveridge and rather than be put in that attitude the president will give Indiana a wide berth in his forthcoming visit to the middle west.

The president is anxious for republican success in Indiana and hopes that the republicans under whatever leadership they choose may be able to turn the tide against the democrats.

It was said at the White House yesterday that the president's trip west which begins April 29 probably will be curtailed several days.

ADDRESSED THE CONVENTION OF REPRESENTATIVE JEW

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Representative Jews of America, delegates to their convention of the B'nai B'rith cheered Pres. Taft last night to the echo when he ended an address before them at the annual convention with these words:

There is no people so much as you who have become the aristocrats of the world and yet who make the best republicans.

President Taft said, in part: "I have profound admiration for the Jewish people, because they are essentially artistic, because they make excellent citizens, are in favor of law and order, I am glad to have them come to this country. They have the profoundest appreciation of our institutions of liberty and education. I am a Unitarian, but the church where my father had a pew stood next to the Jewish synagogue in Cincinnati, and the churches were so close together that often pulpits were exchanged, so, on the main question I am Orthodox."

Was the Guest of The City of Rome

ROME, April 7.—The series of events connected with the cancellation of Mr. Roosevelt's audience with the pope and later the repudiation of the denunciatory statement issued by Pastor Tappin of the American Methodist church at Rome, added interest to the dinner given in Mr. Roosevelt's honor last night in the great hall of the historic Capitoline palace by the municipal authorities, over which Mayor Nathan presided. No reference, however, either directly or indirectly, was made to this subject.

The guests included Premier Luzzatti, Signor Ferrero, under secretary of the foreign office, Signor Ferrero, grand master of the Order of Free Masons, and Ambassador Luchini.

Mayor Nathan, in proposing the health of ex-President Roosevelt, referred to him as "one whose character and work had an effect upon the civil progress of humanity." After mentioning Washington and Lincoln as, respectively, the founder and consolidator of the republic, he characterized Mr. Roosevelt as a "purifier," saying that he had hunted fiercer beasts than during his recent trip in Africa.

"Men of his calibre," said the mayor, "are beyond the limits of country. They belong by right to civilization."

He concluded with a reference to Mr. Roosevelt as "the shining philosopher" who is preaching the word of goodness and purity to his people, and he compared the ex-president to Marcus Aurelius.

Mr. Roosevelt, in replying, declared that no civilized man could come to Rome without feeling that he was visiting the cradle of civilization. After expressing deep appreciation for the hospitality shown him here, he spoke of politics which, he said, was not so much a matter of genius as of the practical application of the very ordinary qualities of courage, honesty and common sense. The rarest of these, he added, is common sense.

"Beware of the man who does not translate his words into deeds," said the ex-president. He announced he was an optimist with regard to the future.

"Twice Italy was at the head of the world," he continued, "first in the days of her glory, when Marcus Aurelius was emperor, and second, during the marvelous reproduction of the life of Greece in the communes of Amalfi, Florence and Geneva. And now, in the last 60 years, since the battle of Novara, we have seen the wonderful growth which has made Italy what she is and what she will be."

"When the pessimists say that civilization is worn out we can turn to Italy, whence the entire Occident derives its civilization, and where we don't know whether to admire more the present or what is being prepared for the future."

"In all civilized countries it has been necessary to preserve some barbaric virtues, above all, military strength, to oppose any attempt at oppression. Countries must be strong in order to be good and to help the weak against the overbearing."

The ex-president and Mrs. Roosevelt left for Spezia at 11.45 last night. Several hundred people gathered around the train and took part in an enthusiastic demonstration. The American was warmly cheered and there were many cries of "Long Live Roosevelt."

He was obliged to come out on the platform of the special car which had been put at his disposal by the government, and he expressed his thanks to the people of Rome for their generous and unforgettable hospitality.

The Vatican yesterday made further representations regarding the cancellation of the audience, but they contained no new points. The Vatican had especially that Cardinal Merry Del

The guests included Premier Luzzatti, Signor Ferrero, under secretary of the foreign office, Signor Ferrero, grand master of the Order of Free Masons, and Ambassador Luchini.

Mayor Nathan, in proposing the health of ex-President Roosevelt, referred to him as "one whose character and work had an effect upon the civil progress of humanity." After mentioning Washington and Lincoln as, respectively, the founder and consolidator of the republic, he characterized Mr. Roosevelt as a "purifier," saying that he had hunted fiercer beasts than during his recent trip in Africa.

"Men of his calibre," said the mayor, "are beyond the limits of country. They belong by right to civilization."

He concluded with a reference to Mr. Roosevelt as "the shining philosopher" who is preaching the word of goodness and purity to his people, and he compared the ex-president to Marcus Aurelius.

Mr. Roosevelt, in replying, declared that no civilized man could come to Rome without feeling that he was visiting the cradle of civilization. After expressing deep appreciation for the hospitality shown him here, he spoke of politics which, he said, was not so much a matter of genius as of the practical application of the very ordinary qualities of courage, honesty and common sense. The rarest of these, he added, is common sense.

"Beware of the man who does not translate his words into deeds," said the ex-president. He announced he was an optimist with regard to the future.

"Twice Italy was at the head of the world," he continued, "first in the days of her glory, when Marcus Aurelius was emperor, and second, during the marvelous reproduction of the life of Greece in the communes of Amalfi, Florence and Geneva. And now, in the last 60 years, since the battle of Novara, we have seen the wonderful growth which has made Italy what she is and what she will be."

"When the pessimists say that civilization is worn out we can turn to Italy, whence the entire Occident derives its civilization, and where we don't know whether to admire more the present or what is being prepared for the future."

APPOINTMENT OF MR. RUNELS.

The selection of Henry Runels as a member of the public hall commission is one of the best that could be made. It is to be hoped that Mr. Runels will accept the place on the commission so as to give the community the benefit of his sound judgment and business experience in matters of this kind.

THE RELEASE OF MRS. KELLEHER.

The release of Mrs. Kelleher, who has been kept in prison for fifteen months on suspicion of murdering a number of her relatives, has caused considerable surprise, although if the woman is not guilty no other disposition of the case would satisfy the ends of justice. The district attorney in favoring her acquittal made a statement that was rather surprising. He said it turns out to be a fact that in this part of the country there is not a human body wherein arsenic could not be found if examined. The contention of the defense, he said, was that arsenic might be absorbed from a renovated mattress on which the deceased persons had slept, or might have been taken into the system in Epsom salts.

The motive of the district attorney in making this statement may have been the lack of evidence to convict, but even so it was the best thing Mr. Higgins could do to give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt. We have had too many expensive murder trials without conviction.

THE SPRINGFIELD TRAGEDY.

It is gratifying to the people of the entire state that the Springfield murderer has been arrested. There is little doubt that the police have got the right man. In fact his confession appears to remove all doubt on that question. The murder was a peculiarly cold-blooded one and of such a character as to arouse the popular mind to a state of intense indignation.

It is rather discreditable to the Springfield police that detectives from outside the city had to be called in to assist in running down the murderer. We presume the insanity plea will be urged in behalf of Spencer when he comes to trial. But so far as can be judged there has been little or no signs of insanity in connection with this man's conduct. He seemed to be a daring desperado, and if that is any proof of insanity then he may urge the plea with confidence. But we do not believe any jury will be swayed by any evidence of the "brain storm" stamp in the Springfield case.

FOR A CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL.

Mayor Meehan's efforts in favor of the erection of a contagious hospital for Lowell will receive the general approval of the community. A contagious hospital under the control of the city has long been recognized as a public necessity to prevent the spread of such diseases. The isolation of contagious diseases is essential for the protection of the community, and without a hospital under the control of the city we cannot have proper isolation. It is a well known fact that for years contagious diseases have not been properly isolated for lack of a contagious hospital. If such a hospital were available the patients might readily be sent there, and this would protect the neighborhood in which the disease occurs against the danger.

Inasmuch as the law requires that every city shall have a contagious hospital it is to be hoped that some practical steps will be taken to bring about the erection of such a hospital along the lines suggested by Mayor Meehan before the board of charity.

HELP THE CENSUS ENUMERATORS.

On April 15 the census enumerators will start to count the heads in the city and to ask a number of questions that some people may think somewhat impertinent. These men have been carefully selected to perform a very important work for the government, and the information they obtain from each family is confidential and private except that it will be used in statistical form without, however, any reference to the names of the parties who furnish the information. Nobody need, therefore, have any hesitation in answering all the questions set down on the government forms to be propounded by the enumerators.

The information collected will be massed in statistics, showing general results regarding population, births, marriages, deaths and other deductions of a vital nature. The enumerators will also collect valuable information in regard to industries, and the facts collected from individual families will be woven like threads into a web of statistics that will be of great value to the government and to manufacturers in this and other countries.

One important matter of inquiry by the enumerators will be in regard to the number of people who own their homes, the number who have their homes mortgaged and the amount carried on mortgages. On these points as on the others there need be no hesitation in answering all questions fully and accurately. The object is to find out how many families in Massachusetts own their homes and how many are paying off mortgages. This information is of great value for comparison with like information from other states when the facts are reduced to percentages and averages, showing at a glance the general results of a vast amount of labor. Hence it is to be hoped that everything possible will be done to assist the enumerators in getting the necessary facts. One thing of great importance is the accurate count of our population. When the last census was taken we heard a lot of criticism and many allegations that the population of Lowell was set at a figure from 500 to 1000 lower than it should be. Let nobody hide from the enumerators; let nobody give false answers and the results will be correct. Let it be understood also that the information thus gathered cannot be used by the tax collector for the collection of poll taxes. The assessors count the polls for the city; the enumerators for the state. The city treasurer has no access to the data collected by the enumerators. It is foolish, therefore, for anybody to avoid the enumerators under the impression that an interview with one of them means the subsequent collection of a poll tax.

SEEN AND HEARD

Now that the windows in the house we call home have been washed we may see things in a different light.

B. M. Tilton of Tilton Brothers, of Keene, N. H., recently replied to an advertisement in a Boston newspaper which told of an owner's willingness to part with a valuable Boston bull terrier. In response to directions later received Mr. Tilton forwarded a $10 money order and this morning he received a card containing the dog, for which he paid express of $1.40.

The appearance of the animal when released from the box caused a ripple of laughter to pass through the store. The animal appeared to Mr. Tilton to be a vagrant pup of a breed which the new owner has not determined. After a personal study of the pup's lean ribs, his long curved tail and his general air of dejection, Mr. Tilton decided that the pup was kin to either a sky terrier or an Eskimo dog.

LAY OF THE BLUES.

Say, are you ever, without any reason Especially for it, in 'most any season. Swept with a wave of that Oh-I-am-Tired-fulness, Man-who's-just-Hired-fulness, Wish-I-was-Fired-fulness? Say, do you ever, while working and fretting, Hoping and sorrowing, thinking, forgetting, Have that soul-emptying What-is-the-Use-fulness, That Oh-the-Deuce-fulness, Oh-for-a-Truce-fulness Sort of a spell?

Say, did you ever feel just when you're working, Your top level best, with no thinking of shirking, That life and its labor is all a Hot-Air-fulness, What-is-my-Shave-fulness, Oh-I-Don't-Care-fulness, Sort of a game, just a juggle and fight With one thing in hand and a dozen in sight, But just out of reach? Oh, that What's-in-it-All-fulness, Lord-ain't-it-Small-fulness, Gone-to-the-Wall-fulness Sort of a spell!

Say, but I've had 'em, without any reason Especially for 'em, in most any season. Had that soul-frightening What-is-the-Bind-fulness, Oh-for-a-Friend-fulness, Too-Late-to-Mend-fulness Sort of a feeling—that sort of a fallow-ness, Kind of a hollowness, sort of a shallowness, Had that soul-darkening What-is-the-Usefulness, That Oh-the-Deuce-fulness, Lord-heres-the-Blues-fulness Sort of a spell!

CUTTING WON'T REMOVE THE CAUSE THE PILES

Piles mean more than merely the pain of the stubborn little tumors. There is a condition inside that must be dealt with. Cutting is usually followed with later and worse attacks. A permanent cure can only be made by bettering the condition of the parts and getting a free circulation of the blood.

Hem-Roid cures all kinds of piles by internal action right on the cause. Sold by Carter & Sherrill, Lowell, Mass., and money back if it fails. 11 per bottle. Dr. Leonard, Station B, Buffalo, N. Y.

Whitman. Here is a bit of it describing the achievements of John D. Rockefeller and his plaiding, written out, without the change of a word, in the approved manner of the bard:

By creative skill they secured from refuse oil Valuable by-products. They invented The huge reservoir for storing oil. The combined pipe-line system which gathers up And carries the natural products, The tank cars which carry the refined products. They created the export trade in oil, Transporting it in ships of their own construction And selling it in Asia, India, China, Japan, Russia and all Europe. They devised The trading stations, the tank delivery wagons. And used every means to cheapen The product and improve its quality. From 1862 to 1906—forty-four years—The work went on. Thus have the heroes of all times Related their great achievements, With the epic quality of this resounding brief told the hearts of the supreme court judges as old Othello's story the tender bosom of Desdemona.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A signal honor to Professor George Gratwick Wilson of Brown university in his election to associate membership in the Institut de Droit International. Professor Wilson, who at Harvard is lecturer on international law, is also is at the naval war college, is counselor of the navy department. He is recognized as one of the leading authorities on international law in America. He was appointed by President Roosevelt as one of the two representatives of the United States at the international conference on maritime warfare, held recently in London.

Harlow Raymond, who has resigned as superintendent of buildings at Wesleyan college, at Middletown, Ct. after a service covering 46 years, has been known to generations of college men as "Doc." He has been in the service of the university since the senior professor was an undergraduate. He went there at a time when, as he says, "there were two buildings and a little brick one, and where the library now stands, the cows pastured." From the architect's plans, he superintended the building of both Memorial chapel and Judson Hall of Natural Science. Throughout his career "Doc" Raymond has held a most friendly relation to the undergraduates, and he remembers more Wesleyan men than any man living. Mr. Raymond expects to retire to a farm in Langmeadow.

Mrs. Pauline Steinhilber has been appointed a trustee of the public library of Toledo, Ohio, for a term of four years. Mayor Whitlock in appointing Mrs. Steinhilber is said to have given as his reason the belief that the women should be recognized by the appointment of active suffragists to as many public offices as possible. Mrs. Steinhilber takes the place of Mrs. Sarah Bissell, who received her first appointment in 1902 and has served ever since only resigning now because of her age.

Camera Users

Before you swallow that Hot Air story of the agents of the "Kodak Trust" investigate it for yourself. The fact that the price of a photographic paper is kept at an exorbitant price by the "Kodak Trust" does not increase the value of your photos to you in any way and you have brains enough to know it.

THEY SAY

That they use the higher price papers—they use no paper whatever as your precious films or plates left there are dumped into a satchel, the owner of it calls for it in the afternoon and your film and plates to spare time and anyone who cares enough about truth in advertising can prove this for themselves.

ABOUT FISH MARKETS

Editor of the Lowell Sun: Sir: I notice a good deal in the papers

about pure milk, but fail to see anything about pure fish. I also notice that Lowell is governed mostly by spasm. A few years ago we had a hog spasm. All hogs must have a galvanized trough to eat from, also silver plated spoons to eat with. That spasm soon passed. Now we are having a cow spasm. All cows must be covered with waterproof, and the milk man must be sterilized. Now when the present spasm passes off, let us hope there will be a fish spasm. A poor milk man is held into court and fined $50 for putting a pint of water in a can of milk. While fish dealers and meat markets are allowed to sell rotten fish six days of the week. In my opinion, there is more poison sold in decayed fish in one week in Lowell than in all the milk sold here in a year. I have seen bottled lobsters in windows for sale Saturday night and some of the same for sale the next week. No lobster is fit to eat forty-eight hours after it is boiled unless it is pickled.

What we need is some one to look after the fish dealers, one who knows what fish is and the law in the matter, and sand enough to enforce the law. R. N. Maker, No. 92 Hastings St.

SICK CHILDREN; WORMS THE CAUSE

Parents Do Not Know It.

Three-fourths of the sickness of childhood come from worms. Thousands of children suffer from worms and their parents do not know it. Watch carefully for any symptoms like these: sunken eyes, pallid nose and lips, dim eyes, itching nose, blot, paleness, cheeks of uneven color, swollen lips, bluish pallor around the mouth, bad breath, choking, swallowing, starting or groaning in sleep, hacking cough, constant thirst, swollen abdomen, bed-wetting, milky urine, and peevish disposition, greedy appetite or none at all, vomiting.

Knowing that the child has worms you can treat it at once yourself with a reliable vegetable mixture called Fessenden's Worm Expeller. The price of it is only 25 cents. You will forget that small cost for the sake of your child.

Remember the name—Fessenden's Worm Expeller. In some towns every druggist has it for sale. In every town in the state you will find it at some good drug store.

Start giving it to the child at once going by the simple directions printed on the package.

You ought to drop whatever you are doing and go and get some at once.

J. WILLARD BROWN, NEW COMMANDER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS, G. A. R.

Leslie of Post 7, and 117 for Isaac C. Day of Post 47 of Haverhill.

The election of junior vice-commander followed immediately after the uncontested election of J. Willard Brown of East Boston to the position of department commander to succeed John L. Parker.

Granville Clark Fiske of Post 18 of Ashland was also elected without opposition to the position vacated by Commander Brown, that of department senior vice-commander.

The encampment opened in Faneuil hall at 10 a. m. yesterday, and was attended by Commander-in-Chief Samuel R. Van Sant, who was escorted from his train to the hall by an escort of honor from Post 11, Charlestown.

The encampment was called to order by Commander J. L. Parker with prayers by Chaplain George E. Lovejoy. Reports were read and Commander Parker read his address.

The point in this speech which was received with enthusiasm was the attack against congress for placing the statue of Robert E. Lee in the uniform of a confederate general in the national capitol.

EVADED THE FARE

Man, Rah Up Taxicab Bill of $171

BOSTON, April 6.—A supposedly wealthy New York man who "side-stepped" from a backdoor of a Waltham hotel last night in order to avoid paying the modest sum of $171 for taxicab fare from the Metropolis, was apparently ignorant of the Massachusetts laws. The supreme court recently decided that no law compelling patrons of taxicabs to pay fares for their rides, exist on the statute books of the state.

Fred Smith, New England manager of a New York auto car concern, is anxious to find a man who engaged a taxicab at 79th street and First avenue, New York, last Friday night for a trip to Bridgeport. The stranger spent money freely and the driver, supposing him to be wealthy, did not demand when their trip was extended over several days and as far as Boston, At Waltham the passenger stealthily disappeared through the back door of a hotel, leaving the chauffeur without funds in a strange town. The driver and taxicab were forwarded to New York by steamer today.

ENABLED TO CHECK GLANSMEN AT PRISTINA

PRISTINA, Turkey, April 7.—The arrival of heavy reinforcements has enabled the Turkish troops temporarily to check the advance of the clansmen who have been threatening Pristina, but it was only after severe fighting for two days in the vicinity of the river Lab during which the losses on both sides were considerable that the government troops were able to bar the victorious march of the Albanians.

The latter are awaiting reinforcements from the clansmen to the southwest when it is expected that the fighting will be resumed.

EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE

BOSTON, April 7.—In the expectation that the long-standing open pulp controversy would be thrust upon the triennial general convention of the Episcopal church which meets at Cincinnati in October, conservative churchmen of this diocese who are opposed to the appearance of non-Episcopalians in the pulpits of the denomination have nominated a partial list of delegates in opposition to a greater portion of a ticket agreed upon at a conference of head church leaders held just the Diocesan house conference nominated Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann of Boston, formerly of Orange, N. J., Rev. Dr. Nash of Cambridge, Rev. D. D. Saunders of Lawrence, William Kellen, Henry Loverin and J. J. Greenough of Boston.

Gardner of Boston. Rev. Dr. Mann and Mr. Saunders are apparently unopposed, as is Rev. A. St. John Chamberlain, D. D., of Lowell, for one of the non-residential deputies to the general convention.

YARN SPINNERS ASSOCIATION
CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 7.—The Southern Soft Yarn Spinners association met here yesterday in called session behind closed doors. Late in the day the association took a recess until today. MOHAIR CRICKET CLUB
The regular meeting of the executive committee of the Mohair club was held at the home of Pres. Thomas C. Cryer on Tuesday last. The committee on the concert which takes place at Colonial hall Thursday night (tonight) reported that all arrangements had been made and judging by the program, the members have a treat in store for them. Tickets have been selling rapidly and a good house is assured. It is rumored that one of the prominent club members has sacrificed a handsome black moustache so as to be able to play the part of one of the leading characters in the amusing sketch which is to be produced at the close of the concert. President Cryer requests all members who can possibly do so to be at the new grounds on Saturday next at 2.30 to help in the necessary work previous to the opening of the new grounds.

MAMMOTH LAND SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION OF TWENTY-ONE (21) HOUSE LOTS IN THE LOWELL HIGHLANDS ON SATURDAY, APRIL 9, COMMENCING AT 2.30 O'CLOCK.

On the several premises regardless of the weather or conditions, I shall offer for sale the above twenty-one (21) house lots at public auction to whomsoever will bid the most for them. My only reason for so doing is on account of poor health. About four years ago my attention was called to this tract of land, it being so high, dry and sunny, and containing so many beautiful views of land and I at once saw its possibilities. It is a corner lot of Lowell's finest residential section. I have purchased the same. I divided it up into house lots and put them in streets with sewers, sidewalks, curbings, water and lights, and there have been 22 pretty homes built on the same, among them being the beautiful Bagshaw residence. Now the fact that twenty-two (22) houses have been built within such a short space of time goes to prove that the location is all that can be desired, and if you are thinking of building a house for yourself, and desire a location that will be always up-to-date, you should attend to this sale, and if you are not ready to build at present a lot in such a location will prove a good investment, as you get as much pure and fresh air, as if you were five miles out in the country, though you are still within the city limits, within two minutes' walk of the Highland car line, five minutes' walk of the Westford street car line, and in close proximity to the new Washington school, Highland school and the new primary school, and but a short distance to the many churches in this district, among them being the new Catholic church soon to be erected on Stevens street.

Now, I will not attempt to give a full description of each lot, but will give a brief advice, you will see for yourself the lots and their surroundings; you will find them located on high and dry land, on streets extremely well lighted and they will be all numbered and staked off. But I wish to call particular attention to a beautiful lot at the corner of Parker and Rhodora streets, containing about 10,334 square feet with large frontages on both streets; this I consider one of the finest lots in the Highlands. There are also five very choice house lots on Rhodora street with an average of about 3,000 sq. ft. in each lot. There are four fine lots on Wedge street, two of them being corner lots, with an average of about 5,000 sq. ft. to each lot. On Atlantic street there are seven lots with an average of about 5,000 sq. ft. to each lot, two of them being corner lots. The last four lots are located on Ruth, Wedge and Lara streets and contain about 4,300 sq. ft. each and are within a stone's throw of the beautiful Bagshaw residence.

Now, other tracts of land have been opened up and promises given for streets, sewers, water, lights, curbing and sidewalks, but here is a tract that will give you the benefit of my hard and untiring labors of putting through streets, sewers, lights, curbing and sidewalks, and I am sure that there are no better lighted streets in any section of Lowell. I am aware of the great sacrifice I will have to make, but my loss will be your gain. Now, then, do not fail to attend this sale, as I shall sell every lot without limit or reserve.

BIG POLICE SHAKEUP

THE GLOVER CASE

Attorney Scott Made His Argument This Afternoon

SENATOR SIMPSON

Made Severe Argument in the Russell Case Today

Five Men Pensioned---Eight Added to Force---Fifteen Supers. Put on

CAMBRIDGE, April 7.—State Senator Simpson of North Dakota again challenged attention in the probate court in his bitter arraignment in his opposition to the claims of his client to the identity of Daniel Blake Russell. Mr. Simpson spoke for a session and a half of the court yesterday but it seemed only a warning-up effort on his part for today he launched into the severest criticism of the evidence in support of the executors of the estate of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose. Aiming the great part of his argument at Lawyer Eugene C. Upton, counsel for Executor F. C. Almy, and at Miss

THE BOSTON TEAM CRUSADE BEGUN

Was in an Accident Against Sale of Adulterated Candy Near Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 7.—Again a railroad wreck, which more than once this spring has interfered with baseball training, overtook a major league club today, the players in this case being the second division of the Boston National league club piloted by John J. Dovey. At Saxton, Ky., the Louisville & Nashville train on which the team was enroute from Knoxville, Tenn., to Louisville ran into an open switch. None of the players or other passengers, according to reports reaching here, was hurt but Engineer William Rudolph was killed and the fireman and express messenger were injured.

The baseball paraphernalia and baggage of the Boston players was so badly smashed that Mr. Dovey telegraphed to Louisville cancelling today's game between his team and the Louisville American Association team.

PRESIDENT TAFT

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Taft has not yet replied to the numerous telegrams he has received from Indianapolis urging him to reconsider his decision not to visit that city on May 6. The president has been informed that other telegrams and letters are on their way to Washington and he will make no answer until all of these are received.

To callers at the White House today President Taft declared that politics had nothing whatever to do with his decision. He said he had read Senator Beveridge's speech some time ago. In fact before he accepted the invitation to visit Indianapolis in the first place. While the president had the opportunity to read Senator Beveridge's speech it was not submitted to him by the Indiana senator nor was it submitted with any idea of executive approval or disapproval and up to this time the president has made no comment upon it.

If the president can arrange to postpone engagements he has made in Washington on May 6, 7 and 8 it is more than likely that he will visit Indianapolis and that he also will spend the two extra days in Cincinnati which it seemed yesterday would have to be cut out of his schedule.

Five hundred police and county officers are engaged. Clues from many cities in Ohio, western Pennsylvania and New York are being run down.

MOORE CO. CASES REV. FR. SMITH

On Trial in Superior Court Today To be Honored by His Lowell Friends

The Moore Spinning company-Boston Ice company cross suits were on trial again today in the superior court and geology, geometry and muskrats were discussed by experts on canal banks, earth formation, irrigation, etc.

Engineer H. F. Adams was on the stand throughout the morning and he stated that after an investigation of Leach's pond it was a matter of dispute in his opinion whether the pond was a natural or an artificial pond. At the time of the break in the bank which precipitated the flood that resulted in the suits, it was discovered that a heretofore unknown ledge existed under the canal bank. Engineer Adams when questioned stated with positiveness that a ledge under a canal bank was a source of weakness for the bank.

Clerk Smith is receiving assignments of cases daily from Boston and is of the opinion that not a moment will be lost within the next six weeks. When the present run of cases is finished he will list cases from that portion of the calendar that was not read out at the opening session.

COURTMARTIAL POSTPONED

BOSTON, April 7.—The courtmartial of Lieut. L. Gaudhey for a loss of $3500 as paymaster of the gunboat Castine, was indefinitely postponed today. The official cause given is the illness of the judge advocate, but, unofficially, it is said that the matter was dropped because the amount has been made good by Lieut. Gaudhey.

Tonight at the school hall of the Sacred Heart parish, the friends of Rev. Fr. Smith, O. M. I., throughout the city will meet to arrange for his reception on Monday evening, when he will return to the city in time for the parish reunion at Associate hall in the evening.

Rev. Fr. Smith was very popular not only with the people of his own parish but those who knew him outside. He was also highly esteemed by the members of the press who had met him and their opinion is that had he not been a clergyman he would have been an editor on account of the keen interest he has always shown in the mission of the press.

His Lowell friends while regretting his departure rejoice at his appointment as provincial of the Oblate Order. He is a worthy successor to the Very Rev. Fr. Fallon, O. M. I., who has been made a bishop.

MASS OF REQUIEM

A high mass of requiem for the repose of the soul of the late Hannah Mangano, who died March 15th, was sung this morning at eight o'clock at St. Michael's church by Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor of the church. The choir under the direction of Mr. Thomas P. Boulger sang the Gregorian mass and the solos were sustained by Mr. Boulger and Miss Griffin.

WAGE ADVANCE

MADE BY THE AMERICAN SUGAR REFINING CO.

American Sugar Refining Co. is the first of the larger and more important industrial corporations of the United States which has given the question of the increased cost of living practical recognition. For the past few months the agitation on the part of hundreds of thousands of railroad employees has been bearing fruit in the shape of wage advances, the increases varying in most cases between 6 per cent and 8 per cent. American sugar, however, has by its own voluntary action elected to advance the wages of the majority of its thousands of employees, the individual increases ranging between 5 per cent and 10 per cent.

This action is understood to be based solely on the recognition by the management of the increased cost of living and is a voluntary step without any ulterior purpose. Not only that, but the sugar refining business is so intensely competitive by nature that there is no way by which the American Sugar Co. can advance prices of refined sugars, even should it desire to do so, to a point that would make up the financial expense involved in the increase. In other words, unlike wage advances made by many corporations, the burden of this increase in wages must fall directly and permanently upon the net earnings of the American Sugar Co.

A visit to the alloys will convince any one that it is a case of the right man in the right place with Tom Welch as manager. Call over and renew old acquaintances.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Standing a few feet from the window of his bedroom on the fifth floor of a fashionable Lenox avenue apartment house today, Harry Cohan, a former diamond broker, leaped forward headlong and crashed through the glass and plunged to the concrete pavement below. He struck on his head and was killed. Cohan learned last week that he was incurably ill of a fatal malady.

REPORT DENIED

At the Vatican this afternoon it was denied officially that a papal audience had been refused to the German singers. It was said that the members of the Cologne choral union had left the city before an audience could be arranged.

UNITED IN DEATH

Bridget Manion Passed Away Today

One week ago Mrs. Mary Tierney, an elderly woman living at 4 Conlon's place, off Fayette street, passed away and her remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery. Today Bridget Manion died at the same house, and two close companions of many years in life were reunited in death.

Bridget Manion was 70 years of age and a devout member of the Immaculate Conception church. She was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis, and of the Immaculate Conception sodality. Until the infirmities of age prevented her she was always prominent in parish affairs as was the late Mrs. Tierney. The two women had lived together for many years up to one week ago to the day when Mrs. Tierney died, leaving her life-long friend practically alone in the world. Today Bridget Manion passed on to join her friend.

PROVED A FAILURE

EMMANUEL MOVEMENT HAS FAILED COMPLETELY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The Emmanuel movement, having to do with the treatment of mental trouble by religion and mental suggestion, in which it was hoped that an effective cure had been found for neurasthenia and other diseases of the nervous system, has proved a failure at St. Luke's hospital here, according to a statement of Bishop Nichols of the Episcopal church.

The local experiment has lasted a year and every effort, it is said, has been made to test the efficacy of the prescribed treatment. The hospital's psychopathic ward has now been discarded.

Bishop Nichols thus accounts for the failure of the treatment at the hospital.

"We discovered that it was impossible to secure beneficial results by placing patients in a psychopathic ward associated with a hospital. All the depressing influences of the hospital bore down upon them. The constant atmosphere of suffering made a cure impossible and finally we were forced to the conclusion that we had failed."

STUDENT FOUND

AS A STOWAWAY ON A GERMAN STEAMER

NEW YORK, April 7.—"I have gained a lot of experience since I left home and I have had a very pleasant time," remarked Sewall Camp, the young Princeton student who was found a stowaway on the steamer Kronprinzessin Cecilie on her voyage to Cherbourg and Bremen. Camp, the son of a Watertown, N. Y., banker, was returned here today on the steamer St. Louis. From a stowaway on the German steamer Camp worked his passage in the pantry with the stewards.

Young Camp, whose departure for foreign shores was said to have been caused by a family misunderstanding, appeared cheerful and would not talk of the reasons for his flight. The student will go to Princeton today and report at college.

City Will Care for Faithful Fire Horses

"Zeb" and "Charlie" are not slated for the auction block. It has been stated, and in the public print, that they were to be sold at auction after years of faithful service as fire horses. Charity Commissioner Howe heard about it and he went to Mayor Meehan. He told the mayor that in his opinion the horses ought to be sent to the city farm or some other place where they would be cared for—for the good they had done.

The horses are at the Pawtucketville fire house and have been there for several years. They have been faithful and true but their bones have taken on the stiffening process and they are not as lively as they used to be.

Mayor Meehan had heard about the horses that were about to be cast off by the fire department and he there and then declared that they should not be sold at auction if he had a voice in the matter. He believed with Commissioner Howe that the horses should be taken care of. Mayor Meehan says that the horses will not be sold at auction.

Action Has Been Entered by a New York Man

BOSTON, April 7.—Arthur W. Foster, a New York real estate man, who was brought before the public eye last January by the efforts of his wife, Florence Howard Foster, to secure an annulment of her marriage on the alleged grounds that she had been drugged before going to the altar, has now brought suit for $50,000 damages against Frank Howard of 320 Commonwealth avenue, Mrs. Foster's father by adoption, charging Howard with alienation of Mrs. Foster's affections.

Foster has also started another suit, this for $50,000 damages also, against Volney Jacobs, formerly a chauffeur in the Howard household, charging conspiracy to alienate Mrs. Foster's affections. The writs were served Friday and are returnable on May 1.

Mrs. Foster's suit for annulment of her marriage has never come to trial.

Atty. C. H. Innes of Vahey, Innes & Vahey, counsel for Foster, says that he will endeavor to have the annulment suit disposed of as quickly as possible. Further than this he would not discuss the case.

Mrs. Foster is the adopted daughter of Frank Howard, a retired official of Walter Baker & Co. of Dorchester. In April, 1907, she was sued by Mrs. Harold Grace Jacobs of Lynn, who charged Mrs. Foster, then Florence Howard, with alienation of Mr. Jacobs' affections. Nothing ever came of the suit.

Miss Howard and Foster appeared before Justice of the Peace Charles A. Fay at his home at 419 Shawmut avenue on Jan. 2 last, and were married. Justice Fay said to reporters later that Miss Howard appeared to be perfectly sane during the entire ceremony, and to have full knowledge of what she was doing. Her suit for annulment of the marriage followed soon after.

TEN MEN BURIED

Under Roof of Big Car Barn at Saybrook, Conn.

SAYBROOK, Conn., April 7.—The roof of the Shore Line Trolley Co.'s car barn at this place gave way suddenly this morning and crashed to the ground floor, carrying with it several men who were at work on it and burying beneath it a number of others who were in the structure. It was stated that ten or twelve men were in the wreckage. Six persons were removed immediately after the roof had fallen, among them being Jerry Kahan of Springfield, Mass, the superintendent of the barn and William Hood of Chester, Conn. The others were a Swedish and three Italians whose names were not learned. Kahan was the most seriously hurt, his back and one leg being broken. It is feared his injuries may prove fatal. Hood's injuries so far as could be determined consisted largely of cuts and bruises. Some fifty men were employed about the structure which was nearing completion but a number of these hurried away for assistance immediately after the accident and it could not be stated definitely how many were caught under the fallen roof. It was believed that the number at the outside would not be more than twelve. The victims were placed on a special train and sent to the New Haven hospital for treatment.

The cause of the accident has not been determined. A number of up rights within the building supported the roof and it is thought that some of these either gave way or were accidentally knocked from under the roof which then unable to bear the weight on it caved in.

Schooner Was Attacked by Blacks

VICTORIA, B. C., April 7.—The recruiting schooner St. Joseph was attacked by blacks in the New Hebrides near Mallicho early in March and three sailors were killed and two wounded. The survivors succeeded in rescuing the wounded men and cut loose the anchor and made away. The attack is said to have been made in revenge for the carrying off of native women by the crew.

There is much unrest in the New Hebrides and recently several barbaric incidents were reported. At Ambrian recently a chief died and all his wives were killed and eaten. The heads of the victims were recovered by French residents and sent to the police.

J. R. McPherson, a trader, who returned to Sydney, told of a tribal fight seen by him in northern Australia. The crew of blacks, engaged in gathering tribals, were attacked by hostile natives using spears and one man was transfixed. The blacks clashed and fought hand to hand with knives, tomahawks and iron bars. Eleven blacks were left wounded and all promptly were hacked to death. During the conflict forty arrests were made.

PAID $14,000

OVERCHARGED THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 7.—Practically admitting that it had overcharged the state to the extent of thousands of dollars under the regime of the old state dispenser in South Carolina, the whiskey firm of William Lannahan & Son of Baltimore has paid to a former General Lyon $14,000 in settlement of "over judgments" which were found by the dispensary commission at its flitting last fall. By the payment, a claim of $20,000 against the commission by the firm and an over-judgment of $25,000 found by the commission are wiped out.

Coincident with the payment of the $14,000 an injunction secured against the firm by the commission to prevent the collection of sums owed it by several county dispensaries of the state was dissolved.

Went to Third Reading in the Senate Yesterday by Vote of 22 to 11—Bill Will Undoubtedly Become Law

The opposition was of a negative nature and Rep. Barlow is confident that the bill will be engrossed and become law.

The bill, it will be recalled, was turned down by the committee on taxation but was substituted and passed in the house over the adverse report of the committee after a big fight.

BADLY INJURED

MAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM BEING KILLED

Joseph Morin, aged about 50 years, had a narrow escape from being killed about 1:30 o'clock this morning as a result of stepping from a moving train while it was passing through the north yard in the vicinity of the School street crossing. The man boarded the train in Nashua and when near the School street crossing in this city endeavored to get off but lost his balance and fell to the ground. Fortunately he landed outside the tracks and thus escaped being crushed beneath the wheels. His head struck one of the up rails, rendering him semi-conscious. The ambulance removed him to St. John's hospital where several stitches were taken in the cut.

NEW MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL MANAGERS WHOSE WORK WILL BE CLOSELY WATCHED

Never in the history of big league baseball have there been so many changes in the management of the teams as there have been for the coming season. Four clubs in the American and three in the National have new leaders. In the junior organization Pat Donovan, formerly of Brooklyn and St. Louis, will try to lead the Boston Red Sox to Pennantville. Hugh Duffy, the Chicago White Sox new pilot, is expected to duplicate Fielder Jones' success and show his heels to his rivals. Jack O'Connor will try hard to let St. Louis fans see what a real live baseball team is, and Jimmy McAlleer, formerly with the St. Louis Browns, will do his utmost to lift the Washington team out of last place. In the other organization Bill Dahlen will try to make a first division team out of the Brooklyn club. Philadelphia fans are depending on Charley Doolin, their star catcher, to lead the Quakers on to victory, and the Bostonians are sure that Fred Lake will make a better showing than his predecessors of the last few years.

TWO MARKSMEN

Lieuts. Burns and McMaster Leave Militia

Second Lieut. James E. Burns of Co. C and Second Lieut. Harry C. McMaster of Co. K have tendered their resignations as members of the militia. The demands of business necessitating their retirement, much to the regret and that of every militiaman in Lowell.

Lieut. Burns is known all over the United States as one of the country's best shots. He was last year a member of the Massachusetts team at the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, and has during his military service with Co. C been prominently identified with that feature of military endeavor. During his entire service he has been a member of the Co. C rifle team. He has been second lieutenant only a comparatively short time.

Lieut. McMaster is one of the most able men in the service of the state forces. His long service, dating back some 17 years, his knowledge of everything pertaining to the duties not only of the enlisted man but of the line officer, his executive ability and his personal popularity make him one whom the service can ill afford to lose.

Lieut. McMaster is also, with Lieut. Burns, an expert rifle shot, and has since the forming of Co. K been a leading member of its rifle team. Lieut. McMaster was for many years a member of the old cavalry troop of Chelmsford, serving as first sergeant. Upon the formation of Co. K in this city, he became one of the first members and was shortly made first sergeant, a position he held until his promotion by the company to the second lieutenancy last fall.

The resignation of neither officer has yet been accepted. This is due probably to the fact that there is a major's commission vacant in the Sixth Infantry, and that to fill it every line commission must be filled before an election can take place. For the time being, owing to vacancies in the line, it has been impossible to hold the election, and it is thought that now that this has been remedied, no one will be permitted to resign until the majorship is filled.

The two candidates for the majorship are Capt. Gardner W. Pearson, commander of Co. C of this city, and Capt. Taylor of Marlboro. Both have seen long service in the state forces and each has a large personal following.

It has been stated on excellent authority that Capt. Walter R. Joyce, commander of Co. G of this city, who was lately appointed armorer here, will not resign his commission, as at first reported. The law does not demand such resignation, and the headquarters of the regiment consider Capt. Joyce too valuable a man to lose if he can be prevailed upon to remain in the service.

The Sixth Infantry will go into camp at South Framingham on the old camp grounds, July 23. The ninth will hold field maneuvers at Pine Plains, N. Y. in August.

WM. B. MOFFATT

HAS PURCHASED ESTATE AT SASKATCHEWAN

William B. Moffatt, former superintendent of police, left this city, Tuesday for Earl Grey, Saskatchewan, Canada, near which place he has secured a section of land. Mr. Moffatt has two relatives in that part of the British northwest who have prospered during the two years which they have been there.

Recently Mr. Moffatt paid a visit to Saskatchewan and the natural resources attracted his attention so that he secured certain sections. It is his intention to raise wheat.

He has spent much of his time during the past winter in getting the necessary tools for up-to-date farming and has purchased a pair of heavy draft horses. His claim is that his health is much better in the northwest than anywhere else. He will stay until November.

A FLYING TRIP

To be Made in Cause of Charity

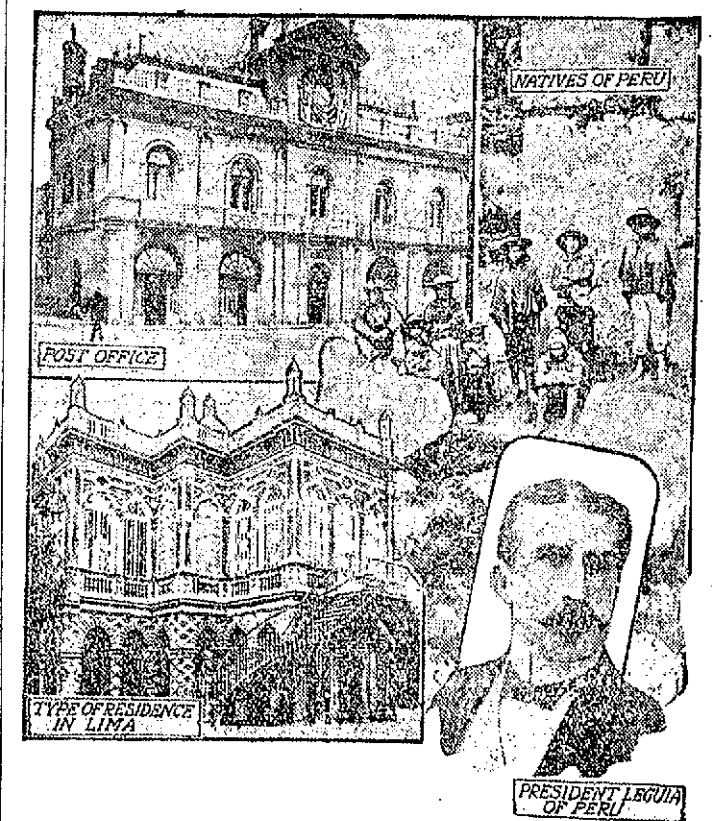

NEW YORK, April 7.—As a demonstration of the loyalty of the theatrical world to a charity cause Miss Pauline Chase, the original pajama girl and now playing in "Peter Pan" in London, is to make a flying trip to New York. Miss Chase will remain in New York exactly three hours. She leaves Europe on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and will arrive in New York May 11. An automobile will be waiting for her, and she will be whisked to the Actors' Fair

PAULINE CHASE

Fund, where she will auction off a number of photographs of English actors. She expects to spend two hours at this work, giving her enough time to return to the docks and sail for Europe on the Mauretania. Colonel Roosevelt, President Taft and many members of royalty of Europe have sent various objects which are to be sold at the fair, but it has remained for Miss Chase to make a record breaking trip. Her engagements in Europe are such that she has but twelve days from the theater.

PRESIDENT LEGUIA, SCENES IN LIMA AND NATIVES OF PERU

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Advises from Lima, Peru, continue to flow into the secretary of state's office telling of the warlike preparations of Peru, Chile, Colombia and Ecuador. A number of riots have occurred in the various countries and students of South American politics declare that a general war may be expected along the west coast. Peru and Ecuador are taking the leading part in the contemplated struggle. From recent reports it is learned that the Peruvian army comprises about 4000 officers and men. The army is provided with 20,000 Mauser rifles, twenty-four Maxim and Gatling guns and twenty-four light guns. The Peruvian navy consists of the Lima, a cruiser of 1,700 tons; the Almirante Grau and the Colonel Bolognesi, each of 2,200 tons and 24 knots speed. The Ecuadorian army numbers approximately the same as that of Peru, but the national guard is said to consist of 80,000 men. What proportion of this number would be available in case of war, however, is problematical. The Ecuadorian navy consists of a torpedo launch and transport.

CAREER OF CRIME

Spencer Says He Committed a Number of Burglaries

SPRINGFIELD, April 7.—Laying his crimes to love of excitement and a mania for stealing caused by an injury to his head in boyhood, Bertram Gage Spencer, the young clerk arrested Tuesday, yesterday broke down under a 24 hours' merciless grilling and confessed that he was the masked burglar who terrorized Springfield for two years, reaching the climax of his wild career by murdering Miss Martha B. Blackstone last Thursday evening.

Spencer bared an amazing criminal career to the police, the latter say. He admitted having committed 16 or more burglaries in Springfield, three in Greenfield and one in Brattleboro, Vt. The details of his greatest crime—that of last week—the police withheld for use at his trial.

Spencer's admissions make it apparent that for cool daring and audacity he has had few equals. His robberies were never specifically planned. Walking along a street he would reach a house whose inmates' attention was momentarily distracted by an outside event—an accident or a small fire—and would enter and secrete himself, later appearing with drawn revolver and demanding money.

One of his most daring exploits was in the summer of 1903 when, walking along the street, he saw a woman carrying a package under a coat. He followed her by a brilliant light and the hum of conversation through the open windows of a house where a card party was in progress. Leaning on the window sill he thrust his revolver into the room and demanded forced contributions.

His confession as given out by the police begins with the Ludington robbery in which he hid under a bed, saw a woman while disrobing take off two diamond rings and hide them and later crawled out and forced her to hand them to him. While living on Seventh street, Springfield, he entered the house of Dr. R. P. M. Ames, across the street and stole some silverware and jewelry.

In March 1909, he was attracted by a crowd in front of the house of N. R. Hooley, 22 Brookline street and seized his opportunity to hide himself in the house.

In another instance, to intimidate a woman whose apartments he had entered he shot out the lights and escaped when she was startled to attack him. Another time in the house of A. H. Rogers, 22 Temple street, he hid in a closet until the inmates had retired, then confronted the daughter of the house, Miss "Del" Rogers, tied her and made her accompany him to the kitchen. Then as he left with $2 and some silverware, he released her.

In the home of L. J. Power, Pearl street, he made his way softly to the top floor where he found two maids, who amid tears assured him that everybody else was out. He returned to the lower floor and robbed the master of the house, who had just entered and started to go out. Finding himself unable to open the door, he returned to an upper story, whither Mr. Power had retreated, and forced his unhappy "host" to come down and let him out. Entering the apartments of Miss Eva Foster on Salem street, he had to earn $50—the biggest haul he made in Springfield—by conquering the woman after a hard struggle. In this case as in many others he hid in the house and later made a sudden and dramatic appearance with drawn pistol.

Another burglary netted him 25 cents. This was at the house of W. W. Tapley, where were staying Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rippling. These he robbed of $2.25, but on learning that the $3.50 gold piece that made up part of this loot was a souvenir, he politely returned it to the couple. When he dropped a pocket which he wore while robbing the home of A. M. Blair on Union street last year, the end of his career came in sight. While engaged in this burglary he was nearly caught, and descended a ladder hastily. This ladder caused a projection on the ladder and was torn off. He did not wait to find it and thus left the only clue that came into the hands of the police. It was through this clue that he was discovered.

Spencer in his confession told the police that he had an inordinate love for jewelry and other luxuries. This with his love of excitement and desire for newspaper notoriety, made a trio of motives that urged him on to crime after crime.

Despite his large number of robberies, his plunder in the aggregate amounted to little more than $200, of which about $125 was in money. Throughout his career his young wife apparently believed the stories that he told her of the source from which he obtained his loot. There were, generally, that he had picked up a bargain in an auction room.

As a husband, Spencer was most exemplary. This was true also of his private life in so far as it related to sobriety and personal habits.

Spencer, while admitting the murder of Miss Blackstone, said that he had not intended to shoot her but had lost control of himself when she repeatedly shrieked. Even then, he asserted, he had fired only to frighten her and the three other women confronting him in the Dow house, into silence.

After his confession Spencer was arraigned in the police court and was held without bail for further hearing April 15. He will probably be held for the May term of the grand jury.

Spencer told the police that he had experienced no qualms of conscience from his crimes. The only thing which caused him any worry, he said, was the loss of a pocket bearing his initials, which he dropped outside of a house which he had entered. It was through this clue that he was discovered.

In his confession Spencer revealed a career of almost life long crime. Following a block on the head while he was a small boy in Lebanon, Conn., his native town, he began to steal at the age of nine, rifling the pockets of his school mates and robbing his parents of small sums. Later he held up young women on the highways and entered houses while still a youth. He spent some time on a naval training ship and then traveled about the country, his thefts covering a wide range of territory. By engaging in legitimate occupations by day he always escaped detection. In San Francisco he was a witness of the earthquake horrors.

WALKER ARRESTED

UPON HIS RELEASE FROM RELIEF HOSPITAL

BOSTON, April 7.—Rev. Raymond Walker, the former Baptist clergyman of Providence who recently escaped from the Rhode Island state hospital for the insane and later turned up in the relief hospital here after an alleged attempt at suicide, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with being a fugitive from justice.

Walker was discharged from the relief hospital yesterday but before he could get outside the doors of that institution two police inspectors took him into custody on the fugitive warrant. The warrant alleges that the ex-clergyman is wanted in Rhode Island for forgery. Walker was brought before the municipal court and held for a continued hearing April 15. In default of $2000 bail he was committed to the Charles street jail. He was represented by counsel and it is understood that Walker threatens to make some sensational revelations when his case is called.

"WET" AGAIN

MIDDLE STATES SHOW RETURN TO "YES" COLUMN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 7.—Elections in 200 cities and towns in Illinois yesterday on the saloon issue showed a decided reversal of the trend of two years ago, judging from reports from 240 places which have been received thus far. If anything, the vote indicates a tendency to return to the "wet" column. Many cities having a large population were recaptured by the "wets." Reports yesterday showed 39 "dry" towns went "wet," 19 "wet" towns went "dry," 72 "wet" towns retained the saloon, while 110 "dry" towns remained true to their colors.

SENATOR WARREN'S BILL

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Senator Warren's bill authorizing the disposal of the surplus waters of government irrigation projects to private corporations was the subject of prolonged debate in the senate again yesterday. Mr. Heyburn denounced the measure in vigorous terms.

When he said that the bill had been dictated by the corporations, Mr. Warren denied that such was the fact. With some degree of warmth he said: "I drew the bill as the result of a suggestion from a government official and not in the interest of any corporation."

Senator Heyburn was sharply antagonized by his colleague, Senator Borah, who in emphatic terms declared the bill was in the interest of and acceptable to the people of Idaho. Pointing out that the bill provided only for payment for the delivery of water by the government, he contended that it did not authorize the sale of water as had been asserted. The bill was then laid aside.

TAFT "RENEGES"

President Cancels Visit to Indianapolis

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Taft has cancelled his visit to Indianapolis on May 5. While no statement has been issued in regard to this decision it is believed to be the direct result of the events at the Indiana state republican convention yesterday.

It is not even admitted at the White House that the president had a definite engagement to visit Indianapolis, although despatches from that city several days ago announced that the president would be there from 12.45 p. m. till midnight May 5.

In view of the circumstances surrounding yesterday's convention of the Indiana republicans it was said by friends of the administration yesterday that if the president spoke at Indianapolis at all he would more than likely feel compelled to express again his well known views regarding the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. It was argued that if the president should do this it might be interpreted adversely to Senator Beveridge and rather than be put in that attitude the president will give Indiana a wide berth in his forthcoming visit to the middle west.

The president is anxious for republican success in Indiana and hopes that the republicans under whatever leadership they choose may be able to turn the tide against the democrats. It was said at the White House yesterday that the president's trip west which begins April 29 probably will be curtailed several days.

PRESIDENT TAFT

ADDRESSED THE CONVENTION OF REPRESENTATIVE JEWS

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Representative Jews of America, delegates to their convention of the B'nai B'rith cheered Pres. Taft last night to the echo when he ended an address before them at the annual convention with these words:

"There is no people so much as you entitled to become the aristocrats of the world and yet who make the best republicans."

President Taft said, in part: "I have profound admiration for the Jewish people, because they are essentially artistic, because they make excellent citizens, are in favor of law and order. I am glad to have them come to this country. They have the profoundest appreciation of our institutions of liberty and education. I am a Unitarian, but the church where my father had a pew stood next to the Jewish synagogue in Cincinnati, and the churches were so close together that often pulpits were exchanged. So, on the main question I am Orthodox."

FOR DEFENDANT

VERDICT ORDERED YESTERDAY IN TELEPHONE SUIT

BOSTON, April 7.—On the ground of insufficient evidence, Judge Hale in the United States circuit court yesterday ordered a verdict for the defendant in a suit for alleged malicious prosecution brought against the American Bell Telephone Co. of Boston by the National Telephone Mfg. Co. of Portsmouth, N. H. The case grew out of a previous suit for alleged infringement of the Berliner patent on telephone transmitters brought by the Bell Co. against the New Hampshire corporation. The suit resulted in a judgment for the latter's business. The suit was thrown out of court and the New Hampshire company started a counter suit for $500,000 damages.

FOR 30 DAYS

PENN MINERS WILL REMAIN ON STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, April 7.—The union miners of Pennsylvania will probably remain on strike for the next thirty days at least. The wage scale committee of the union men and the operators of the coal fields, who are workers of America, agreed late Tuesday to adjourn sine die, the miners refusing to carry on further negotiations looking to arbitration of the new explosive cause of their demands. As there is but a scant month's supply in the Pittsburgh district a coal famine is threatened.

VOTE ON STRIKE

ORDERED BY THE CONDUCTORS AND TRAINMEN

CINCINNATI, April 7.—The joint committee representing the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, whose demands were refused in part by the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad on Tuesday, ordered yesterday a referendum vote among the members of the two unions as to whether or not to strike. Gen. M. E. Gould of the railroad, offered to consider better working conditions, but refused to grant an increase in wages and this proposal was in turn refused by the joint committee. Demands by another committee upon the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific received an answer that the road is willing to grant an increase of wages of 4% per cent, but it cannot better the working conditions. It is probable that a strike vote will be ordered there also.

An agreement as to working conditions was reached between the Baltimore & Ohio Southern and a number of men from the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen and Engineers. Prospects for an agreement on the wage demands are bright.

MET WITH ACCIDENT

NEW YORK, April 7.—It became known last night owing to her failure to depart, that the steamboat, Commonwealth of the Fall River line, met with an accident last night, as she was leaving Newport, en route to New York. An officer of the company said the accident was slight.

STOPS ITCHING AT ONCE

Quite recently a chemist formulated a compound which possesses such soothing and curative properties that, when applied, it stops the itching of eczema and similar diseases. Immediately, sufferers who use it are amazed at the relief of the relief which follows its use. The skin heals in an astonishingly short time, and all traces of the disease are eradicated. The name of this new remedy is Cadum, and it is sold by all druggists for 10c and 25c a box. It is also remarkably effective when used for acne, herpes, pimples, blackheads, urticaria, itching piles, tetter, salt rheum, and skin diseases generally. A 10c box will verify all these statements.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Was the Guest of The City of Rome

ROME, April 7.—The series of events connected with the cancellation of Mr. Roosevelt's audience with the pope and later the repudiation of the denunciations of the American Methodist church at Rome, added interest to the dinner given in Mr. Roosevelt's honor last night in the great hall of the historic Capitoline palace by the municipal authorities, over which Mayor Nathan presided. No reference, however, either directly or indirectly, was made to this subject.

The guests included Premier Lazzari, Signor Ferrero, under secretary of the foreign office, Signor Ferrero, grand master of the Order of Free Masons, and Ambassador Lelshman.

Mayor Nathan, in proposing the health of ex-President Roosevelt referred to him as "one whose character and work had an effect upon the civil progress of humanity." After mentioning Washington and Lincoln as, respectively, the founder and consolidator of the republic, he characterized Mr. Roosevelt as a "purifier," saying that he had hunted fiercer beasts than during his recent trip in Africa.

"Men of his calibre," said the mayor, "are beyond the limits of country. They belong by right to civilization."

He concluded with a reference to Mr. Roosevelt as "the fighting philosopher," who is preaching the word of goodness and purity to his people, and he compared the ex-president to Marcus Aurelius.

Mr. Roosevelt, in replying, declared that no civilized man could come to Rome without feeling that he was visiting the cradle of civilization. After expressing deep appreciation for the hospitality shown him here, he spoke of politics which, he said, was not so much a matter of genius as of the practical application of the very ordinary qualities of courage, honesty and common sense. The rarest of these, he added, is common sense.

"Beware of the man who does not translate his words into deeds," said the ex-president. He announced he was an optimist with regard to the future.

"Twice Italy was at the head of the world," he continued, "first in the days of her glory, when Marcus Aurelius was emperor, and second, during the marvelous reproduction of the life of Greece in the communes of Amalfi, Florence and Geneva. And now, in the last 60 years, since the battle of Novara, we have seen the wonderful growth which has made Italy what she is and what she will be."

"When the pessimists say that civilization is worn out we can turn to Italy, whence the entire Occident derives its civilization, and where we don't know whether to admire more the present or what is being prepared for the future. In all civilized countries it has been necessary to preserve some barbaric virtues, above all, military strength to oppose any attempt at oppression. Countries must be strong in order to be good and to help the weak against the overbearing."

The ex-president and Mrs. Roosevelt left for Spezia at 11.45 last night. Several hundred people gathered around the train and took part in an enthusiastic demonstration. The American was warmly cheered and there were many cries of "Long Live Roosevelt." He was obliged to come out on the platform of the special car which had been put at his disposal by the government, and he expressed his thanks to the people of Rome for their generous and unforgettable hospitality. The nation yesterday made further representations regarding the cancellation of the audience, but they contained no new points. The Vatican insisted especially that Cardinal Merry Del forthwith. The communication charges that his attitude bids fair to lose for this country the international aviation contest and recommends imperative action to save it.

INJUSTICE CHARGED

BERLIN, N. H., April 7.—Injustices on the part of the International Paper Co. toward its men were charged by J. T. Carey, of the United Brotherhood of Paper Makers, and George J. Schneider, vice president of the Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill workers, at a public mass meeting here last night. Most of the striking employees of the company's local plant were present, together with a number of business men. The laborers' remarks were applauded.

The company now has about 50 men, mostly strikebreakers in the mills here. Few of these, however, are believed to be skilled men.

APPOINTMENT OF MR. RUNELS.

The selection of Henry Runels as a member of the public hall commission is one of the best that could be made. It is to be hoped that Mr. Runels will accept the place on the commission so as to give the community the benefit of his sound judgment and business experience in matters of this kind.

THE RELEASE OF MRS. KELLEHER.

The release of Mrs. Kelleher, who has been kept in prison for fifteen months on suspicion of murdering a number of her relatives, has caused considerable surprise, although if the woman is not guilty no other disposition of the case would satisfy the ends of justice. The district attorney in favoring her acquittal made a statement that was rather surprising. He said it turns out to be a fact that in this part of the country there is not a human body wherein arsenic could not be found if examined. The contention of the defense, he said, was that arsenic might be absorbed from a renovated mattress on which the deceased persons had slept, or might have been taken into the system in Epsom salts.

The motive of the district attorney in making this statement may have been the lack of evidence to convict, but even so it was the best thing Mr. Higgins could do to give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt. We have had too many expensive murder trials without conviction.

THE SPRINGFIELD TRAGEDY.

It is gratifying to the people of the entire state that the Springfield murderer has been arrested. There is little doubt that the police have got the right man. In fact his confession appears to remove all doubt on that question. The murder was a peculiarly cold-blooded one and of such a character as to arouse the popular mind to a state of intense indignation.

It is rather discreditable to the Springfield police that detectives from outside the city had to be called in to assist in running down the murderer. We presume the insanity plea will be urged in behalf of Spencer when he comes to trial. But so far as can be judged there has been little or no signs of insanity in connection with this man's conduct. He seemed to be a daring desperado, and if that is any proof of insanity then he may urge the plea with confidence. But we do not believe any jury will be swayed by any evidence of the "brain storm" stamp in the Springfield case.

FOR A CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL.

Mayor Meehan's efforts in favor of the erection of a contagious hospital for Lowell will receive the general approval of the community. A contagious hospital under the control of the city has long been recognized as a public necessity to prevent the spread of such diseases. The isolation of contagious diseases is essential for the protection of the community, and without a hospital under the control of the city we cannot have proper isolation. It is a well known fact that for years contagious diseases have not been properly isolated for lack of a contagious hospital. If such a hospital were available the patients might readily be sent there, and this would protect the neighborhood in which the disease occurs against the danger.

Inasmuch as the law requires that every city shall have a contagious hospital it is to be hoped that some practical steps will be taken to bring about the erection of such a hospital along the lines suggested by Mayor Meehan before the board of charity.

HELP THE CENSUS ENUMERATORS.

On April 15 the census enumerators will start to count the heads in the city and to ask a number of questions that some people may think somewhat impertinent. These men have been carefully selected to perform a very important work for the government, and the information they obtain from each family is confidential and private except that it will be used in statistical form without, however, any reference to the names of the parties who furnish the information. Nobody need, therefore, have any hesitation in answering all the questions set down on the government forms to be propounded by the enumerators.

The information collected will be massed in statistics, showing general results regarding population, births, marriages, deaths and other deductions of a vital nature. The enumerators will also collect valuable information in regard to industries, and the facts collected from individual families will be woven like threads into a web of statistics that will be of great value to the government and to manufacturers in this and other countries.

One important matter of inquiry by the enumerators will be in regard to the number of people who own their homes, the number who have their homes mortgaged and the amount carried on mortgages. On these points as on the others there need be no hesitation in answering all questions fully and accurately. The object is to find out how many families in Massachusetts own their homes and how many are paying off mortgages. This information is of great value for comparison with like information from other states when the facts are reduced to percentages and averages, showing at a glance the general results of a vast amount of labor. Hence it is to be hoped that everything possible will be done to assist the enumerators in getting the necessary facts. One thing of great importance is the accurate count of our population. When the last census was taken we heard a lot of criticism and many allegations that the population of Lowell was set at a figure from 500 to 1000 lower than it should be. Let nobody hide from the enumerators; let nobody give false answers and the results will be correct. Let it be understood also that the information thus gathered cannot be used by the tax collector for the collection of poll taxes. The assessors count the polls for the city; the enumerators for the state. The city treasurer has no access to the data collected by the enumerators. It is foolish, therefore, for anybody to avoid the enumerators under the impression that an interview with one of them means the subsequent collection of a poll tax.

SEEN AND HEARD

Now that the windows in the house we call home have been washed we may see things in a different light.

B. M. Tilton of Tilton Brothers, of Keene, N. H., recently replied to an advertisement in a Boston newspaper which told of an owner's willingness to part with a valuable Boston bull terrier. In response to directions later received Mr. Tilton forwarded a $10 money order and this morning he received a crate containing the dog, for which he paid express of $1.40.

The appearance of the animal when released from the box caused a ripple of laughter to pass through the store. The animal appeared to Mr. Tilton to be a vagrant pup of a breed which the new owner has not determined. After a personal study of the pup's lean ribs, his long curved tail and his general air of dejection Mr. Tilton decided that the pup was kin to either a sky terrier or an Eskimo dog.

LAY OF THE BLUES.

Say, are you ever, without any reason Especially for it, in 'most any season, Swept with a wave of that Oh-I-am-Tired-fulness, Man-who's-just-Hired-fulness, Wish-I-was-Fired-fulness? Say, do you ever, while working and waiting, Hoping and sorrowing, thinking, forgetting, Have that soul-emptying What-is-the-Use-fulness, That Oh-the-Duce-fulness, Oh-for-a-Truce-fulness Sort of a spell?

Say, did you ever feel just when you're working Your top level best, with no thinking of shirking That life and its labor is all a Hot-Air-fulness, What-is-my-Share-fulness, Oh-I-Don't-Care-fulness Sort of a game, just a juggle and fight With one thing in hand and a dozen in sight But just out of reach? Oh, that What's-in-it-All-fulness, Lord-alin't-it-Small-fulness, Gone-to-the-Wall-fulness Sort of a spell?

Say, but I've had 'em, without any reason Especially for 'em, in most any season. Had that soul-frightening What-is-the-End-fulness, Oh-for-a-Friend-fulness, Too-Late-to-Mend-fulness Sort of a feeling—that sort of a fallow-ness, Kind of a hollowness, sort of a shallowness, Had that soul-darkening What-is-the-Usefulness, That Oh-the-Duce-fulness, Lord-herc's-the-Blues-fulness Sort of a spell.

Whitman. Here is a bit of it describing the achievements of John D. Rockefeller and his paladins, written out, without the change of a word, in the approved manner of the bard:

By creative skill they secured from refuse oil Valuable by-products. They invented The huge reservoir for storing oil. The combined pipe-line system which gathers up And carries the natural products. The tank cars which carry the refined products. They created the expert trade in oil. Transporting it in ships of their own construction. And selling it in Asia, India, China, Japan, Russia and all Europe. They devised The trading stations, the tank delivery wagons. And used every means to cheapen The product and improve the quality. From 1852 to 1894—forty-four years—The work went on.

Thus have the heroes of all times related their great achievements. Will the great quality of this resounding brief epic, the heart of the supreme court judges as did Othello's story the tender bosom of Desdemona?

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A signal honor to Professor George Grafton Wilson of Brown university is his election to associate membership in the Institut de Droit International. Professor Wilson, who at Harvard is lecturer on international law, as he also is at the naval war college, is recognized as one of the leading authorities on international law in America. He was appointed by President Roosevelt as one of the two representatives of the United States at the international conference on maritime warfare, held recently in London.

Harlow Raymond, who has resigned as superintendent of buildings at Wesleyan college, at Middlebury, Ct., after a service covering 46 years, has been known to generations of college men as "Doc." He has been in the service of the university since the senior professor was an undergraduate. He went there at a time when, as he says, "there were two buildings of the college, one the cows pastured." From the architect's plans, he superintended the building of both Memorial chapel and Judd Hall of Natural Science. Throughout his career "Doc" Raymond has held a most friendly relation to the undergraduates, and he remembers more Wesleyan men than any man living. Mr. Raymond expects to retire to a farm in Langmeadow.

Miss Carol Harriman is chairman of the Junior League, which takes an active part in the work of the Normal College Alumnae Settlement house in New York. During the last year the settlement has had 13 resident helpers and 35 non-resident. Forty clubs and classes are carried on. The most recently formed classes teach adults to read and speak English. This work was brought about by the discovery that many Bohemians in the neighborhood had been in this country 20 years without learning English. Last summer the settlement sent more than 1000 women and children to the country at the expense of $115. Some of them were taken on day trips, others for one week or longer.

Mrs. Pauline Steinem has been appointed a trustee of the public library of Toledo, Ohio, for a term of four years. Mayor Whitlock in appointing Mrs. Steinem is said to have given as his reason the belief that the movement to obtain votes for women should be recognized by the appointment of active suffragists to as many public offices as possible. Mrs. Steinem takes the place of Mrs. Sarah Bissell, who received her first appointment in 1902 and has served ever since only resigning now because of her age.

Camera Users

Before you swallow that Hot Air story of the agents of the "Kodak Trust" investigate it for yourself. The fact that the price of a photographic paper is kept at an exorbitant price by the "Kodak Trust" does not increase the value of your photos to you in any way and you have brains enough to know it.

THEY SAY

That they use the higher price papers—they use no paper whatever as your precious films or plates left there are dumped into a satchel, the owner of it calls for it in the afternoon and your films are carried to his home and hurriedly done in his spare time and anyone who knows enough about truth in advertising can prove this for themselves.

TRUE FACTS

only are made in my advertisements. Your Brownie or Kodak films left here are finished on the premises in the only perfectly equipped rooms for the purpose in the city by competent photographers of experience. That is the way photo work should be done.

All prints are made on "Argo" paper, your choice of three surfaces. A paper so good in quality that the Trust can not beat it, neither can its restricted agents compete with it in price. Remember and buy your films here on Saturday, 10 per cent discount; another good thing the "Trust agents" cannot offer you.

Saleswomen throughout the country have been sending congratulations to B. F. Hamilton of Saco, Me., who has just attained his ninety-first birthday. Mr. Hamilton was the first merchant to employ saleswomen and the people of his town, men and women, boycotted his store in consequence. Many of the leading churchwomen called on him personally and remonstrated earnestly against what they called the sin of placing women in a position of such publicity as behind a counter for the purpose of selling goods.

ABOUT FISH MARKETS

Editor of the Lowell Sun: I notice a good deal in the papers

about pure milk, but fail to see anything about pure fish. I also notice that Lowell is governed mostly by spasm. A few years ago we had a hog spasm. All hogs must have a galvanized trough to eat from, also silver plated spoons to eat with. That spasm passed. Now we are having a cow spasm. All cows must be covered with waterproof, and the milk must be sterilized. Now when the present spasm passes off, let us hope there will be a fish spasm. A poor milkman is haled into court and fined $50 for putting a pint of water in a can of milk. While fish dealers and meat markets are allowed to sell rotten fish six days of the week. In my opinion, there is more poison sold in Lowell than in all the milk sold here in a year. I have seen boiled lobsters in windows for sale Saturday night, and some of the same for sale the next week. No lobster is fit to eat, forty-eight hours after it is boiled unless it is pickled.

What we need is some one to look after the fish dealers, one who knows what fish is and the law in the matter, and sand enough to enforce the law. R. N. Maker, No. 32 Hastings St.

A DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT.
Wife—Is that you, Henry?
Husband—Yes, dear.
Wife—I'm so glad. I'm always afraid there's a man in the house until you come.

FRIENDS OF ENEMIES.
"How long have you been acquainted with my husband?"
"Since our duel."

NOTHING NEW.
"Congratulations! I hear one of your daughters is engaged." Which one is it?
"Get out! It's only Bessie again!"

HEROIC, BUT NECESSARY.
Burglar (to father, trying to put the baby to sleep)—No noise or I will fire.
New Father—Let 'er go. It's the only thing that'll quiet the kid.

DISCOURAGING.

Weary Raggles: "Please, mister, can't you give me a little assistance?"
Mr. Newcomer: "Dig up this garden and I will give you 50 cents."
Weary Raggles: "Better keep it, boss. You'll need it to buy vegetables with."

A LITERARY MAN.
Cholly—Artah is becoming quite a literary man, don't you know?
Willie—Indeed! What has he written?
Cholly—He sent the editor a list of the guests at his dinner, and the editor printed it, bah Jove!

THE PERSISTENT AGENT.

Agent—Is the lady of the house in, sir?
Kansas Man—Yes, but she ain't feeling very well this morning.
Agent—Oh, I won't detain her but a moment.

And he didn't.

ANOTHER CASSIUS IN THE FIELD.
"All he earns he puts in his stomach."
"I wondered why he was so lean."

ACCOUNTED FOR.
Wickey—Here's a story about a man who unaccountably disappeared after paying all he owed.
Scorehem—Nothing strange about that. The man was crazy.

BREAKING THE TRUTH.
She—This book says, "He whistled as he went for want of thought." Of course it was a man. You wouldn't find a girl whistling for want of thought.
He—No; she wouldn't whistle. She'd talk.

She is led out.

WHEN THE GASOLINE AUTO PASSES BY.

NO CHANGE IN RASTUS.
"I understand, aunt, that your husband, Erastus, is dead."
"Yassah. So dey done tole me."
"Am I to understand from that that you have your doubts about it?"
"Not zactly dat, sah. But just layin' dar doin' nuffin seems so natch'l to 'im dat, I kyant see dat dar's enny diffunce."

UNANSWERABLE.
Mr. Blazer—Why did you kick that dog? He only sniffed you!
Mr. Hoofwalker—Well, yer didn't expect me to wait till he tasted me, did yer?

AGREED WITH THE DOMINIE.
Mrs. Pew—There was a good deal of truth in Dr. Long's sermon today.
Mr. Pew—Yes, especially when he said it was impossible for any of us to tell when the end would come.

HIS OPPORTUNITY.
"I think," she said earnestly, "that a woman who truly loves a man always has his best interests at heart."
This is how he won out:
"If that's the case, what makes her marry him?"

LOOKED THAT WAY.
"Johnny," said the teacher, "go to the blackboard and write sawbuck."
Whereupon Johnny wrote "X-X," and when the teacher said that was wrong Johnny said it looked that way anyway.

BEFORE AND AFTER.

This is Jones and his sweetheart's little brother.

And this is Jones and his little brother-in-law.

STILL LONGER.
Young Man—My cousin has very long hair. When she undoes it it falls down to her waist.
Her Kid Brother—Indeed!
Young Man—That's nothin'. When you undo your hair it falls to the floor—don't it, Mary?

DON'T PEEK.
It isn't wise to seek too much. The water in the brook is clear and most inviting if with only eyes you look.
But when you get a microscope and look you'll get a jar.
And like as not the things you see will start you for the bar.

UGHT TO BE GOOD AT IT.
Prison Boss—We like to accommodate our guests with work that they can do. What was your former line of business?
New Convict—I was an anarchist.
Prison Boss—Ah, very well! We'll put you at road blasting.

A REASON FOR EVERYTHING.
Boy—Father, why do the pictures have frames?

A STICKER.
Brer Porepine—I have my faults, but conceit is not one of them.
Brer Rabbit—Why do you say so?
Brer Porepine—It's easy to see that I'm not stuck on myself.

TIME KILLING TASK.
Mr. De Wait—Did my wife say she would be down presently?
The Valet—No; she said she would come as soon as she put her hat on.

SATISFYING HERSELF.
Lady Passenger—It's a shame to ask me to pay fare for this little boy. I'd rather pay double fare for myself.
Conductor—Just as you wish, madam.

A FINE START.
First Ragamuffin—Heard about Bill's luck?
Second Ragamuffin—No. What was it?
First Ragamuffin—He picked up half a dollar in the street yesterday, an' tomorrow he's goin' ter git married.

SICK CHILDREN; WORMS THE CAUSE

Parents Do Not Know It.

Three-fourths of the sickness of childhood come from worms. Thousands of children suffer from worms and their parents do not know it. Watch carefully for any symptoms like these: swollen eyes, pallid nose and lips, dim eyes, itching nose, blotchiness, cheeks of uneven color, swollen lips, bluish pallor around the mouth, bad breath, choking, swallowing, starting or groaning in sleep, hacking cough, constant thirst, swollen abdomen, bed-wetting, milky urine, cross and peevish disposition, greedy appetite or none at all, vomiting.

Knowing that the child has worms you can treat it at once yourself with a reliable vegetable mixture called Fessenden's Worm Expeller. The price of it is only 25 cents. You will forget that small cost for the sake of your child.

Remember the name—Fessenden's Worm Expeller. In some towns every druggist has it for sale. In every town in the state you will find it at some good drug store.

Start giving it to the child at once going by the simple directions printed on the package.

You ought to drop whatever you are doing and go and get some at once.

the Grand Army state encampment in Faneuil hall as the next national commander-in-chief of the army.

This boom was launched by William Olin, secretary of state, immediately after a wild burst of enthusiasm over the drawing up and passing of resolutions demanding that Virginia withdraw the statue of Lee from the National Hall of Fame at Washington, and petitioning congress to order the removal of the statue if Virginia failed to act.

The start of this denunciation of the glorification of a confederate general was made by retiring Department Commander John L. Parker in his address, incoming Commander J. Willard Brown increased the excitement by drawing up resolutions.

The entire body of delegates arose as one man, cheering wildly. A bugler leaped to his feet, sounded the first notes of "America," and the resolutions were passed with the enthusiastic singing of the national hymn.

The fostering of the feeling of veneration for the Union and for its preservers, which found expression in the attack on the Lee statue, was the keynote of the encampment. It found further expression last night at the honorary banquet ordered by the National Staff association to Commander-in-Chief Samuel R. Van Sant, in the speeches favoring and strengthening the movement for "patriotic instructors" from the G. A. R. to address school children the Friday before Memorial day.

After two hotly contested ballots, George A. Hosley, past commander of Post 11, Charlestown, was elected department junior vice-commander, the only contested place, at the close of the afternoon session of the state encampment of the G. A. R.

On the final ballot the vote stood 301 for Hosley, 51 for Maj. Wm. J. Gillespie of Post 7, and 117 for Isaac C. Day of Post 47 of Haverhill.

J. WILLARD BROWN, NEW COMMANDER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS, G. A. R.

The election of junior vice-commander followed immediately after the contested election of J. Willard Brown of East Boston to the position of department commander to succeed John L. Parker.

Granville Clark Fiske of Post 18 of Ashland was also elected without opposition to the position vacated by Commander Brown, that of department senior vice-commander.

The encampment opened in Faneuil hall at 10 a. m. yesterday, and was attended by Commander-in-Chief Samuel R. Van Sant, who was escorted from his train to the hall by an escort of honor from Post 11, Charlestown. The encampment was called to order by Commander J. L. Parker, with prayers by Chaplain George D. Lovejoy. Reports were read and Commander Parker read his address.

The point in this speech which was received with enthusiasm was the attack against congress for placing the statue of Robert E. Lee in the uniform of a confederate general in the national capitol.

EVADED THE FARE

Man Ran Up Taxicab Bill of $171

BOSTON, April 6.—A supposedly wealthy New York man who "side-stepped" from a backdoor of a Waltham hotel last night in order to avoid paying the modest sum of $171 for a taxicab fare from the Metropolis, was apparently ignorant of the Massachusetts laws. The supreme court recently decided that no law compelling patrons of taxicabs to pay fares for their rides, exist on the statute books of the state.

Fred Smith, New England manager of a New York auto car concern, is anxious to find a man who evaded a taxicab at 79th street and First avenue, New York, last Friday night for a trip to Bridgeport. The stranger spent money freely and the driver, supposing him to be wealthy, did not demand when their trip was extended over several days and as far as Boston. At Waltham the passenger stealthily disappeared through the back door of a hotel, leaving the chauffeur without funds in a strange town. The driver and taxicab were forwarded to New York by steamer today.

Hogan, master of the council, was general manager of the ladies' night. His assistants were: Frank Fox, secretary; Thomas P. Boulger, collector, and Charles H. O'Donnell, treasurer.

TURKISH TROOPS

ENABLED TO CHECK CLANSMEN AT PRISTINA

PRISTINA, Turkey, April 7.—The arrival of heavy reinforcements has enabled the Turkish troops temporarily to check the advance of the clansmen who have been threatening Pristina, but it was only after severe fighting for two days in the vicinity of the river Lab during which the losses on both sides were considerable that the government troops were able to halt the victorious march of the Albanians.

The latter are awaiting reinforcements from the clansmen to the southwest when it is expected that the fighting will be resumed.

ACCIDENT TO CRUISER

AUSTRALIA MILITARY FORCES

VICTORIA, B. C., April 7.—Lord Kitchener's report on his inspection of the Australia military forces states that the forces are inadequate in numbers, training, organization and munitions of war to defend Australia's isolated position. The report was a comprehensive one, covering 22 printed pages. It states that an army of 80,000 is required. He advocates the establishment of a military college similar in ideals and practice to West Point.

EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE

BOSTON, April 7.—In the expectation that the long-standing open schism controversy would be thrust upon the triennial general convention of the Episcopal church which meets at Cincinnati in October, conservative churchmen of this diocese who are opposed to the appearance of non-Dio-cesans in the pulpits of the denomination have nominated a partial list of delegates in opposition to a greater portion of a ticket agreed upon at a conference of broad church leaders held at the Diocesan house on March 28. The Diocesan house conference nominated Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann of Boston, formerly of Orange, N. J., Rev. Dr. Nash of Cambridge, Rev. D. D. Saunders of Lawrence, William Kellen, Henry Loverin and J. J. Greenough of Boston.

The opposition has nominated the Rev. Van Allen of Boston, formerly of Elmira, N. Y.; Rev. Dr. William Thayer of Southbury, Conn.; Rev. Leonard Stone, D. D., of Brookline, William Hayes and George P. Gardner of Boston. Rev. Dr. Mann and Mr. Saunders are apparently unopposed, as is Rev. A. St. John Chambliss, D. D., of Lowell, for one of the provisional deputies to the general convention.

The election will be held at the diocesan convention in Boston next Wednesday.

MADE BIG FORTUNE

Somerville Woman, an Invalid,

BOSTON, April 7.—The will of the late Martha R. Hunt of Somerville, died in the Middlesex county probate court yesterday, disposes of an estate estimated at about $900,000, giving $284,000 to charitable, educational or other public institutions, about $100,000 to relatives and friends and dividing the residue equally among five public beneficent institutions.

DEPENDABLE PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for thirty years and today hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

ago, though for 40 years past she had been confined to her home by feeble health, she managed her affairs so well that her inheritance had increased fourfold at the time of her death. She lived a simple, unostentatious life, giving generously to many worthy objects from year to year.

The largest single bequest, $65,000, goes to the American Unitarian association, $40,000 of it for the general fund, $5000 for the ministerial fund and $20,000 as residuary legatees after two life annuities.

The next largest bequest, $15,000 each, go to the Somerville library, which gets $12,000 for the permanent fund and $3000 for works of art; Winchester home for aged women, Charlestown; Tuskegee institute, Somerville home for aged people, Concord and the Cottage hospital, Baldwinville.

Sum, Massachusetts Indian mission, residuary legatees; after life annuities; Perkins institution for the blind; Willard hospital, Bedford; First Unitarian church, Somerville, half the sum to go for care of children.

The Somerville associated charities is to receive $7000 and $500 each will go to the Concord free library, Charlestown infants' school and children's home, Massachusetts society for aiding discharged convicts, Second Unitarian church, Somerville, and Temporary home for discharged female prisoners, Dedham.

Harvard street church, Charlestown, Somerville Day Nursery and Winter Hill, Somerville, Universalist church, are each to receive $2000. The town of Concord is to have $1000 for repair of the old burial ground.

The residuary legatees, between whom an equal division is finally to be made, are the Massachusetts society for the prevention of cruelty to children, the Massachusetts society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, the Humane society of Massachusetts, Hampton normal and agricultural institute and the New England Watch and Ward society.

The executors named are Albion A. Perry, ex-mayor of Somerville; Edwin A. Stone of the same city and George F. Tufts. Mr. Tufts for personal reasons has declined to serve.

NARROW ESCAPE

Woman and Children Had Close Call

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 7.—Mrs. William M. Henry of 574 East Spruce street and her three small children had a narrow escape from death in a fire which gutted the rear apartments and attic of their home yesterday morning.

They were alone in the house, as Mr. Henry, who is a commercial traveler, was absent in the west on a business trip and the family of Elmer B. Jondrow, who occupy the lower part of the house, were visiting in Canada. Mrs. Henry and children escaped in their night clothes while the house was in flames.

Fortunately her three children, Mills, aged 11, Mervon 10 and Leonard 6, were sleeping in the same room and she hurried them to the stairs and they were rescued.

Mills Henry proved a hero. "I'll pull the alarm, mama," he cried. "I can do it." Barefooted and clothed only in his nightgown he dashed down Spruce street and through Canton to Lake avenue on which box 241 is situated. He looked for a stone, but saw none and smashed his tiny fist into the glass regardless of cuts. Snatching the key he opened the door and pulled the bell.

Kind neighbors gave Mrs. Henry and her children shelter. A providential incident saved the two boys. They usually sleep in a room to be taken for their mother got nervous after the Jondrows went away and moved the boys into her own room to sleep. Their bedroom was burned out and they would undoubtedly have perished had they been there.

The property loss amounts to $4000, including building and contents. The house was owned by Albert L. Duke of Beacon street.

THE AMES BOOM

"Joe" Legare is Working Hard

BOSTON, April 7.—Secretary Legare, official custodian of the Butler Ames boom for United States senator, which came to a rather sudden end in January, is coming back to Boston full of hope and with a purpose. The latter is stated by Senator Nason to be the advancement of Congressman Ames' senatorial interests.

Senator Nason's enthusiasm for Congressman Ames is just as ardent and glowing as ever. He says the boom is growing so fast that the presence of Secretary Legare is actually demanded, if a correct roster of the recruits is to be taken for the commander-in-chief. Essex county is still safe, according to Senator Nason, and he will so report to the congressman's secretary.

The latter left Washington last night, and arrived in Boston this morning, and the first visit he will make will be to the state house, after a conference with Senator Nason and Representative Stevens of Braintree, who has charge of the house end of the Ames' campaign, he will journey onward to Lowell, where some hopeful republicans are waiting to know if Mr. Ames is to be a candidate for congress in the fifth district, as well as a candidate for senator to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge.

GRAND JURY

REPORTED NUMBER OF INDICTMENTS AT CONCORD

CONCORD, N. H., April 7.—The grand jury in the superior court reported 15 indictments yesterday afternoon and though none appeared in the list in the Fellows murder case it is believed that two persons were indicted. Several hours were spent in examination of Mrs. Fellows, her daughter, Mrs. Albert Ball, wife of the man who had worked on the murdered man's farm; Louis Clark, a clerk in his grocery, and John B. Hammond, a neighbor of the Fellows family.

County Solicitor Clifford refused to state whether indictments had been found in the case or not. "I will say, however, that two indictments were found, which the court ordered kept secret by me," he stated. When asked when they will be made public Solicitor Clifford said: "Not until after I get in touch with Atty.-Gen. Eastman." The police officials disclaim all knowledge of arrests made or intended.

REV. DR. McCONNELL

Before the Y. M. C. A. on
Civic Righteousness

Dr. Francis J. McConnell, president of De Pauw university, Indiana, gave the first lecture in this season's Y. M. C. A. Bible course at the First Baptist church, last night. His subject was "The Bible and Civic Righteousness." He said in part:

"The application of the gospel to affairs of communities is no more difficult than its application to the affairs of individual life. First of all, it is the Christian's duty to cultivate more and more, just a plain, everyday, spirit of thoughtfulness.

"TOWN AND COUNTRY"

Expression of satisfaction—
"I want to use the same paint again."

Property owners who, several years ago, had their buildings painted with "Town and Country" Paint, are now making assertions like the above.

All Regular Shades $1.85 Gallon.

C. B. COBURN CO.

a spirit of thoughtfulness. Because we cannot master some technical problems, we should learn to have confidence in those who can. We are suffering a great deal from snap judgment and reliance upon impulse, that is doing us a great deal of harm.

"It will not do to rely merely upon a spirit of good will. If a tramp stands at my door, it may be the best thing I can do for him, to send him along. We cannot solve these problems, and the only thing we can do is to trust those who are experts. In your Y. M. C. A. work, you should get the best man you can, and then trust him."

"Take the problem of the water supply. The old oaken bucket won't do in these days, because there are too many people around, and the old oaken bucket is apt to be loaded. So it is with a great many social problems. If our impulse carries us far enough to pay an expert to do the work, well and good.

"We cannot settle the tariff question merely by leaving it to the people. We must leave it to a commission of trained experts."

"The only way you can deal with some problems of civic life is to trust some expert who has made a study of the situation."

"Not only do we need the spirit of thoughtfulness, but we need more and more reliance upon that old-fashioned something which we call good manners; a thoughtful consideration for other folks; really looking upon other people as if they were entitled to a square deal; getting rid somewhat of our brusqueness, and of our disregard of others' rights. The immediate decisive factor that brought about the great revolutions in the world's history was bad manners on the part of somebody. In the days of the French revolution there had been economic outrage for many years; but what brought about the break was two haughtiness and the bad manners and contempt that those of the old regime showed toward common people. I think if our churches today would preach more and more the quality of a certain kind of consideration for the rights of others, that simple, old-time doctrine would do a great deal of good. The trouble is that men get abysmal between them. The man newly come to wealth is apt to have bad manners. He shows his contempt for those around him, and we have the beginnings of trouble. I have often thought of the part that women play as economic factors. The desires of women for luxury makes the struggle for wealth all the more intense."

"There is no patent scheme that will lead us out of our difficulties. Every man needs to be on his guard to see that he does himself, the very best that he can. The man that is an employer on a small scale, need not say very much about the truth if he himself is not doing what is square."

"We need a new civic conscience; we need to rebuke men that have control of great corporations, and use them in a wrong way. But remember that when every man down along the line is doing the same thing, it will not do merely to stress at the man who happens to be doing it on a larger scale. Very often, a man starts with a certain method in a country, and works it higher and higher, until he becomes a public menace. If we could get down to the bottom of things, the great concerns are often not so great offenders as the smaller concerns. But the good, pious man who goes to church is willing to have the application made to the man higher up, but not to have it made to him, farther down the line. If every man in business will set himself to work to make his a straight business, we can bring in the kingdom of God a great deal more quickly. Let us not say that the only great sinners are those that carry on their business on a large scale. Let us not concern ourselves too much with John D. Rockefeller; let us concern ourselves a little more with John Smith, especially if John Smith happens to be myself. We need to train our understanding in this matter more and more."

"We do not always see how subtle temptation is. I know a clergyman who wrote an article for the Forum, in which he made a defense of the trusts. Nobody asked him to do it, but a few weeks later, there came to him a letter from a trust magnate, expressing his appreciation and enclosing a check for $200. The man took it, and kept it. He wrote the article without any thought of receiving that $200; but is there any danger of that minister changing his mind on the trust question after that? It is probable that the man who sent the check wanted to see to it that that writer's ability was packed down safely on his side."

"Another man made a defense, in a sermon, of the railroad system. His remarks were quoted in the newspapers, and there came to the minister a pass from the railroad company. He took the pass, and was much pleased about it. If he had known that he was going to get the pass, he would not have preached in that way; but since he did not know it, he took the pass; and he is not very likely to change his mind on the railroad question."

"I suppose there are very few people in the world actually bribed outright. Things are made pleasant for a man, and without asking for things, he finds himself practically committed to that side. If we could rid some of these moral questions of their economic side, we could get along much more rapidly."

"I wrote an article some time ago in which I tried to point out that in dealing with the liquor question, the great trouble is not so much with the man selling rum or the man wanting a drink, as with the allied interests. I got a letter from a man who wanted to know how much the whiskey trust made for writing that article. The letter-head showed that the man was in the glass business. I suppose he did not think that I, as a minister, would have sense enough to see through that. There is nothing wrong with the glass business, of course; but we can see how it might have a close connection with the liquor question."

"I know a man once who was very rabid in his utterances against the liquor traffic, until there came into his possession a vineyard, in California. I never saw a man's eyes opened so suddenly."

"Until our conscience is aroused, on these things, there is no need for us to try to do much. Civic righteousness is simply righteousness applied to civic affairs. The Bible is full of it. I do not believe that any man would have to go out of business, because he does his business honestly. For the time being, he may have to sacrifice something, but I do not believe he will have to quit his business. There is enough chance in this world for a man to do business honestly. We may have to take a little less, but we are not sent into this world to get it all. We are sent here to do business honestly, and to take what comes. There is no reason why a man should make a tangled situation an excuse for wrong doing."

MUSICAL COMEDY

At St. Joseph's College
Last Evening

The delightful two-act play, "La Fille du Sonneur de Cloches" was cleverly presented by local amateurs at St. Joseph's college under the auspices of L'Association de Notre Dame de Bonsecours. Mrs. Marie H. Jacques had general charge and Mr. Wolfred Caisse, Jr. directed. Those acting were Mrs. Omer Smith, Miss Antoinette Montmarquet, Miss Yvonne Montmarquet, Mrs. Octave Labrecque, Miss Leda Delisle, Angeline Blouin, Adèle Roy, Albina Jodoin and Genevieve Dupuis. Pretty village maidens, who sang and danced, were impersonated by Misses Anna Martel, Fleur-Ange Gignac, Loretta Ryan, Berengere Roy, Yvonne Belleville, Georgina Dubault, Ruth Delisle and Priscilla Demers.

In the entr'acte, Misses Lillian Chaloux, a graceful young miss with a sweet voice, sang and danced, accompanied at the piano by Miss Winifred Chaloux, Mr. Philippe T. Levesque also sang, accompanied by Mr. Arthur J. Martel. Warm encores were given both numbers.

The Canadian orchestra, E. Champagne, leader, was in attendance and played a delightful program. The officers of the A. G. Cadets served as ushers.

ANNUAL MEETING
OF FIRST BAPTIST SOCIETY HELD
LAST NIGHT

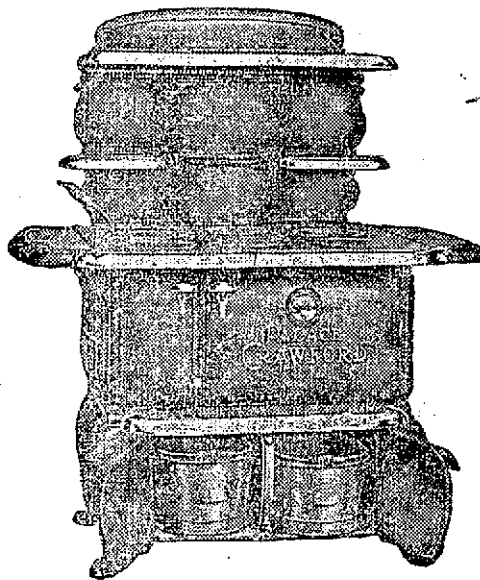

The annual meeting of the First Baptist society was held in the church last night. Mr. A. G. Pollard was chosen moderator.

The annual reports of the assessors, treasurer and music committee were read, showing a favorable condition; the society's year closed with all bills paid and a balance of $184 in the treasury, besides the $200 to be expended in repairs upon the lot in the Lowell cemetery, owned by the society. Officers were elected as follows: Clerk, Edward W. Trull; treasurer, George F. Wagner; assessors, Henry C. Fuller, Frederick J. Flennings, Frank A. Down; auditors, Arthur J. French, Harry Stocks; committee on music, Wm. T. Sheppard, Harry Stocks, Geo. H. Taylor.

Appropriations were voted as follows: Pulpit supply, $3000; and monthly vacation, music, $1350; care of building, a sum sufficient. It was voted that the pastor, Rev. S. W. Cummings be given leave of absence one Sunday in May to attend the World's Sunday school convention in Washington and that $50 be appropriated for his expenses.

The Cooks who have used the Single Damper of the Crawford Rangeswill never go back to the troublesome
two-damper range

The cost of the food spoiled by mistakes in regulating the ordinary two-damper ranges amounts to a large sum.

A. E. O'HEIR &amp; CO., 16 Merrimack Street.

The Single Damper of the Crawford affords absolute fire and oven control by one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven of the Crawford has cup-joint heat flues which heat everywhere alike and make it the quickest and surest of bakers.

The Two Hods (patented) in the base—one for ashes instead of the old clumsy ash pan—one for coal, is a great trouble-saving feature.

Gas Ovens and Broilers above or at end of range, if desired.

Admits Another Shooting THE RUSSELL WILL CASE

EXTRA BIG POLICE SHAKEUP SENATOR SIMPSON

BERTRAM SPENCER

Springfield Man Confesses That
He Shot Michael Gilhooly

SPRINGFIELD, April 7.—Another shooting was admitted today by Bertram Spencer, the young clerk who yesterday confessed to the murder of Miss Martha Blackstone and a long series of burglaries in this city. The shooting which Spencer admitted today took place about two years ago, the victim being Michael Gilhooly, a motorman employed by a local street railroad company. Spencer mistook the motorman for the conductor of the car and ordered him to throw up his hands. Gilhooly believed that Spencer was joking and told him to "beat it" whereupon Spencer fired twice, one bullet entering Gilhooly's leg and the other the body. Gilhooly was removed to a hospital where he remained in a critical condition for some time when he finally recovered.

Spencer's mother was in a state of complete prostration as the result of the developments of the past two days. Spencer's father came here today from Lebanon, Conn., where he lives and called upon the self-confessed murderer at the police station. The older Spencer bore external evidences of the shock his son's arrest had caused him. He said today that a boy Bertram was wild and that it had been practically impossible to control him. Of late years, however, the father had believed that his son had altered his disposition and was a respectable member of society. It was denied today that Spencer is addicted to the use of drugs. The hypodermic syringe found in his pocket has been identified as one which had been stolen from a physician's office. Yesterday at the police station the city physician wished to give Spencer an injection of morphine to quiet his shattered nerves, but the young man refused to allow it, saying that he never had been addicted to drugs and that he did not intend to acquire the habit at this time. Much of the jewelry and other articles found in Spencer's house were identified today. Some of it had been stolen in Springfield while many of the residents of Greenfield found among the confiscated property articles which had been stolen from their houses by the mysterious marked burglar who has baffled the local police authorities for upwards of two years.

EUGENE N. FOSS

Qualified of Member of Congress Today

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The democrats in the house indulged in a noisy demonstration today when Eugene Foss of Massachusetts, democrat, was escorted by his brother, Rep. Foss of Illinois, republican, to the speaker's desk in order that he might be administered to the new member. Republicans remained in their seats quietly as the democrats arose en masse, applauding and cheering. On the front row of the speaker's gallery a sweet-faced old lady joined in the applause. She was the mother of the two brothers who were the center of attraction. Her two daughters-in-law sat on either side of her and joined in the demonstration.

Almost every member of the house was in his seat when the two brothers entered, down the central aisle. Rep. Ollie James of Kentucky having made the point of no return as soon as the house assembled in order that a full attendance might greet a democrat who succeeds a republican congressman.

In no other case do brothers occupy seats on the floor of the house and never before have two brothers of opposite political faith been members at the same time.

Made Severe Argument in the Russell Case Today

CAMBRIDGE, April 7.—State Senator Simpson of North Dakota again challenged attention in the probate court in his bitter arraignment in his opposition to the claims of his client to the identity of Daniel Blake Russell. Mr. Simpson spoke for a session and a half of the court yesterday but it seemed only a warning-up effort on his part for today he launched into the severest criticism of the evidence in support of the executors of the estate of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose. Allying the great part of his argument with Lawyer Eugene C. Upton, counsel for Executor F. C. Almy, and at Miss Almy, Mr. Simpson declared that these two persons had planned the defense. He charged Mr. Upton with fraud and said that W. C. Russell, the son who had inherited the greater part of the estate, was like "putty" in the hands of Miss Almy. He reviewed the evidence of his own handwriting experts and claimed that they had shown conclusively that the exhibits of the defense were forged. Mr. Simpson had not finished his argument when noon recess was reached, but it was expected that Judge Lawton would have the case for consideration before the close of the day.

MOORE CO. CASES REV. FR. SMITH

On Trial in Superior Court Today
To be Honored by His Lowell Friends

The Moore Spinning company-Boston case company cross suits were on trial again today in the superior court and geology, geometry and muskrats were discussed by experts on canal banks, earth formation, irrigation, etc.

Engineer H. F. Adams was on the stand throughout the morning and he stated that after an investigation of Leach's pond it was a matter of dispute in his opinion whether the pond was a natural or an artificial pond. At the time of the break in the bank which precipitated the flood that resulted in the suits, it was discovered that a heretofore unknown ledge existed under the canal bank. Engineer Adams when questioned stated with positiveness that a ledge under a canal bank was a source of weakness for the bank.

Clerk Smith is receiving assignments of cases daily from Boston and is of the opinion that not a moment will be lost within the next six weeks. When the present run of cases is finished he will list cases from that portion of the calendar that was not read out at the opening session.

One week ago Mrs. Mary Tierney, an elderly woman living at 4 Conlon's place, off Fayette street, passed away and her remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery. Today Bridget Manion died at the same house, and two close companions of many years in life were speedily reunited in death.

Bridget Manion was 70 years of age and a devout member of the immaculate Conception church. She was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis and of the Immaculate Conception sodality. Until the infirmities of age prevented her she was always prominent in parish affairs as was the late Mrs. Tierney. The two women had lived together for many years, up to one week ago to the day when Mrs. Tierney died, leaving her life-long friend practically alone in the world. Today Bridget Manion passed on to join her friend.

PROVED A FAILURE

EMMANUEL MOVEMENT HAS FAILED COMPLETELY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The Emmanuel movement, having to do with the treatment of mental trouble by religion and mental suggestion, in which it was hoped that an effective cure had been found for neurasthenia and other diseases of the nervous system, has proved a failure at St. Luke's hospital here, according to a statement of Bishop Nichols of the Episcopal church.

The local experiment has lasted a year and every effort, it is said, has been made to test the efficacy of the prescribed treatment. The hospital's psychopathic ward has now been discarded.

Bishop Nichols thus accounts for the failure of the treatment at the hospital:

"We discovered that it was impossible to secure beneficial results by placing patients in a psychopathic ward associated with a hospital. All the depressing influences of the hospital had been down upon them. The constant atmosphere of suffering made a cure impossible and finally we were forced to the conclusion that we had failed."

STUDENT FOUND

NEW YORK, April 7.—"I have gained a lot of experience since I left home and I have had a very pleasant time," remarked Sewall Camp, the young Princeton student, who was found a stowaway on the German Kronprinzessin Cecilie on her voyage to Cherbourg and Bremen. Camp, the son of a Watertown, N. Y. banker, was returned here today on the steamer St. Louis. From a stowaway on the German steamer Camp worked his passage in the pantry with the stewards.

Young Camp, whose departure for foreign shores was said to have been caused by a family misunderstanding, appeared cheerful and would not talk of the reasons for his flight. The student will go to Princeton today and report at college.

"Zed" and "Charlie" are not slated for the auction block. It has been stated, and in the public print, that they were to be sold at auction after years of faithful service as fire horses. Charity Commissioner Howe, who heard about it and he went to Mayor Meehan. He told the mayor that in his opinion the horses ought to be sent to the city farm or some other place where they would be cared for—for the good they had done.

The horses are at the Pawtucketville fire house and have been there for several years. They have been faithful and true but their bones have taken on the stiffening process and they are not as lively as they used to be.

Charity Commissioner Howe spoke to Mayor Meehan about the horses in question and told His Honor that he believed there were horses at the city farm that might be replaced by the horses de-railed by the fire department.

Mayor Meehan had heard about the horses that were about to be cast off by the fire department and he there and then declared that they should not be sold at auction if he had a voice in the matter. He believed with Commissioner Howe that the horses should be taken care of. Mayor Meehan says that the horses will not be sold at auction.

Action Has Been Entered by a New York Man

BOSTON, April 7.—Arthur W. Foster, a New York real estate man, who was brought before the public eye last January by the efforts of his wife, Florence Howland Foster, to secure an annulment of her marriage on the alleged grounds that she had been drugged before going to the altar, has now brought suit for $50,000 damages against Frank Howland, of 320 Commonwealth avenue, Mrs. Foster's father by adoption, charging Howland with alienation of Mrs. Foster's affections.

Foster has also started another suit, this for $50,000 damages also, against Volney Jacobs, formerly a chauffeur in the Howland household, charging conspiracy to alienate Mrs. Foster's affections. The writs were served Friday and are returnable on Monday.

Mrs. Foster's suit for annulment of her marriage has never come to trial.

Atty. C. H. Innes of Vahey, Innes & Vahey, counsel for Foster, says that he will endeavor to have the annulment suit disposed of as quickly as possible. Further than this he would not discuss the case.

Mrs. Foster is the adopted daughter of Frank Howland, a retired official of Walter Baker & Co., of Dorchester. In April, 1907, she was sued by Mrs. Harriet Grace Jacobs of Lynn, who charged Mrs. Foster, then Florence Howland, with alienation of Mr. Jacobs' affections. Nothing ever came of the suit.

Miss Howland and Foster appeared before Justice of the Peace Charles A. Fitch at his home at 419 Shawmut avenue on Jan. 2 last, and were married. Justice Fitch said to reporters later that Miss Howland appeared to be perfectly well during the entire ceremony, and to have full knowledge of what she was doing. Her suit for annulment of the marriage followed soon after.

TEN MEN BURIED

Under Roof of Big Car Barn at Saybrook, Conn.

SAYBROOK, Conn., April 7.—The roof of the Store Line Trolley Co.'s car barn at this place gave way suddenly this morning and crashed to the ground floor, carrying with it several men who were at work on it and burying beneath it a number of others who were in the structure. It was stated that ten or twelve men were in the wreckage. Six persons were removed immediately after the roof had fallen, among them being Jerry Kahan of Springfield, Mass., the superintendent at the barn and William Hood of Cheshire, Conn. The others were a Swede and three Italians whose names were not learned. Kahan was the most seriously hurt, his back and one leg being broken. It is feared his injuries may prove fatal. Hood's injuries so far as could be determined consisted largely of cuts and bruises. Some fifty men were employed about the structure which was nearing completion but a number of these hurried away for assistance immediately after the accident and it could not be stated definitely how many were caught under the fallen roof. It was believed that the number at the outside would not be more than twelve. The victims were placed on a special train and sent to the New Haven hospital for treatment.

The cause of the accident has not yet been determined. A number of up-rights within the building supported the roof and it is thought that some of these either gave way or were accidentally knocked from under the roof which then unable to bear the weight on it caved in.

SAILORS KILLED

Schooner Was Attacked by Blacks

VICTORIA, B. C., April 7.—The recruiting schooner St. Joseph was attacked by blacks in the New Hebrides near Mallico early in March and three sailors were killed and two wounded. The survivors succeeded in rescuing the wounded men and out loose the anchor and made away. The attack is said to have been made in revenge for the carrying off of native women by the crew.

There is much unrest in the New Hebrides and recently several barbaric incidents were reported. At Ambrian recently a chief died and all his wives were killed and eaten. The heads of the victims were recovered by French residents and sent to the police.

J. R. McPherson, a trader, who returned to Sydney, told of a tribal fight seen by him in northern Australia. The crew of blacks, engaged in gathering treachery, were attacked by hostile natives using spears and one man was transfixed. The blacks clashed and fought hand to hand with knives, tomahawks and iron bars. Eleven blacks were left wounded and all promptly were hacked to death. During the conflict forty arrests were made.

CAREER OF CRIME

Spencer Says He Committed a Number of Burglaries

SPRINGFIELD, April 7.—Laying his crimes to love of excitement and a mania for stealing caused by an injury to his head in boyhood, Bertram Gage Spencer, the young clerk arrested Tuesday, yesterday broke down under a 24 hours merciless grilling and confessed that he was the masked burglar who terrorized Springfield for two years, reaching the climax of his wild career by murdering Miss Martha B. Blackstone last Thursday evening.

Spencer bared an amazing criminal career to the police, the latter say. He admitted having committed 15 or more burglaries in Springfield, three in Greenfield and one in Brattleboro, Vt. The details of his greatest crime—that of last week—the police withheld for use at his trial.

Spencer's admissions make it apparent that for cool daring and audacity he has had few equals. His robberies were never specifically planned. Walking along a street, he would reach a house whose inmates' attention was momentarily distracted by an outside event—an accident or a small fire—and would enter and secrete himself, later appearing with a drawn revolver and demanding money. Or he would hide under a bed in a woman's room, watch her take off her jewelry for the night and then boldly demand it.

While on the streets Spencer usually wore an overcoat and a derby which, before entering a house, he would secrete near the structure, meanwhile donning a mask and slouch hat that he bore in his inside pocket. The robbery committed he would replace mask and soft hat in his pockets, don his derby and overcoat and calmly walk away.

One of his most daring exploits was in the summer of 1908 when, walking along the street, he was attracted by a brilliant light and the hum of conversation through the open windows of a house where a card party was in progress. Leaning on the window sill he thrust his revolver into the room and demanded forced contributions.

His confession as given out by the police begins with the Luddington robbery, in which he hid under a bed, saw a woman while disrobing take off two diamond rings and hide them and later crawled out and forced her to hand them to him. While living on the seventh street, Springfield, he entered the house of Dr. R. P. M. Ames, across the street and stole some silverware and jewelry.

In March 1909, he was attracted by a crowd in front of the house of N. R. Hoxley, 22 Brookline street and seized his opportunity to hide himself in the house.

In another instance, to intimidate a woman whose apartments he had entered, he shot out the lights and escaped when she threatened to attack him. Another time in the house of A. H. Rogers, 22 Temple street, he hid in a closet until the inmates had retired, then confronted the daughter of the house, Miss "Del" Rogers, tied her and made her accompany him to the kitchen. Then as he left with $2 and some silverware, he released her.

In the home of L. J. Power, Pearl street, he made his way softly to the top floor where he found two maids, who amid tears assured him that everybody else was out. He returned to the lower floor and robbed the master of the house who had just entered and started to go out. Finding himself unable to open the door, he returned to an upper story, whither Mr. Power had retreated, and forced his unhappy "host" to come down and let him out. Entering the apartments of Miss Eva Fessler on Salem street, he had to earn $50—the biggest haul he made in Springfield—by conquering the woman after a hard struggle. In this case as in many others he hid in the house and later made a sudden and dramatic appearance with drawn pistol.

Another burglary netted him 25 cents. This was at the house of W. W. Tapley, where were staying Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rippling. These he robbed of $2.25, but on learning that the $2.50 gold piece that made up part of this loot was a souvenir, he politely returned it to the Ripplings.

When he dropped a jacket which he wore while robbing the home of A. E. Blair on Union street last year, the end of his career came in sight. While engaged in this burglary he was nearly caught, and descended a ladder hastily. His jacket caught in a projection on the ladder and was torn off. He did not wait to find it and thus left the only clue that came into the hands of the police. It was through this jacket that he was discovered.

Spencer in his confession told the police that he had an inordinate love for jewelry and other luxuries. This with his love of excitement and desire for newspaper notoriety, made a trio of motives that urged him on to crime after crime.

Despite his large number of robberies, his plunder in the aggregate amounted to little more than $300, of which about $125 was in money. Throughout his career his young wife apparently believed the stories that he told her of the sources from which he obtained his loot. There was, generally, that he had picked up a bargain in an auction room.

As a husband, Spencer was most exemplary. This was true also of his private life in so far as it related to sobriety and personal habits.

Spencer, while admitting the murder of Miss Blackstone, said that he had not intended to shoot her but had lost control of himself when she repeatedly shrieked. Even then, he asserted, he had fired only to frighten her and the three other women confronting him in the Dow house, into silence.

After his confession Spencer was arraigned before the police court and held without bail for further hearing April 15. He will probably be held for the May term of the grand jury.

Spencer told the police that he had experienced no qualms of conscience from his crimes. The only thing which caused him any worry, he said, was the loss of a pocket hearing his initials, which he dropped outside of a house, which he had entered. It was through this jacket that he was discovered.

In his confession Spencer revealed a career of almost life long crime. Following a blow on the head while he was small boy in Lebanon, Conn., his native town, he began to steal at the age of nine, rifling the pockets of his school mates and robbing his parents of small sums. Later he held up young women on the highways and entered houses while still a youth. He spent some time on a naval training ship and then traveled about the country, his thefts covering a wide range of territory. By engaging in legitimate occupations by day he always escaped detection. In San Francisco he was a witness of the earthquake horrors.

Walker was discharged from the relief hospital yesterday but before he could leave the insane and later turned up in the relief hospital here after an alleged attempt at suicide, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with being a fugitive from justice.

President Cancels Visit to Indianapolis

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Taft has cancelled his visit to Indianapolis on May 8. While no statement has been issued in regard to this decision it is believed to be the direct result of the events at the Indiana state republican convention yesterday.

It is not even admitted at the White House that the president had a definite engagement to visit Indianapolis, although despatches from that city several days ago announced that the president would be there from 12.45 p. m. till midnight May 5.

In view of the circumstances surrounding yesterday's convention of the Indiana republicans it was said by friends of the administration yesterday that if the president spoke at Indianapolis at all he would more than likely feel compelled to express again his well known views regarding the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. It was argued that if the president should do this it might be interpreted adversely to Senator Beveridge and rather than put in that attitude the president will give Indiana a wide berth in his forthcoming visit to the middle west.

The president is anxious for republican success in Indiana and hopes that the republicans under whatever leadership they choose may be able to turn the tide against the democrats.

It was said at the White House yesterday that the president's trip west, which begins April 29 probably will be curtailed several days.

ADDRESSED THE CONVENTION OF REPRESENTATIVE JEW

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Representative Jews of America, delegates to their convention of the B'nai B'rith cheered Pres. Taft last night to the echo when he ended an address before them at the annual convention with these words:

"There is no people so much as you entitled to become the aristocrats of the world and yet who make the best republicans."

President Taft said, in part: "I have profound admiration for the Jewish people, because they are essentially artistic, because they make excellent citizens, are in favor of law and order. I am glad to have them come to this country. They have the profoundest appreciation of our institutions of liberty and education. I am a Unitarian, but the church where my father had a pew stood next to the Jewish synagogue in Cincinnati, and the churches were so close together that often pupils were exchanged. So, on the main question I am Orthodox."

VERDICT ORDERED YESTERDAY IN TELEPHONE SUIT

BOSTON, April 7.—On the ground of insufficient evidence, Judge Hale in the United States circuit court yesterday ordered a verdict for the defendant in a suit for alleged malicious prosecution brought against the American Bell Telephone Co. by the National Telephone Mfg. Co. of Portsmouth, N. H. The case grew out of a previous suit for alleged infringement of the Berliner patent on telephone transmitters brought by the Bell Co. against the New Hampshire corporation and which resulted in a heavy verdict in the latter's favor. The suit was thrown out of court and the New Hampshire company started a counter suit for $500,000 damages.

PENN MINERS WILL REMAIN ON STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, April 7.—The union miners of Pennsylvania will probably remain on strike for the next thirty days at least. The wage scale committees of the union men and the operators in district 5, United Mine Workers of America, agreed late Tuesday to a seven day truce. The miners refusing to carry on further negotiations looking to arbitration of the new explosive cause of their demands. As there is but a scant month's supply in the Pittsburgh district a coal famine is threatened.

VOTE ON STRIKE

ORDERED BY THE CONDUCTORS AND TRAINMEN

CINCINNATI, April 7.—The joint committee representing the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, whose demands were refused in part by the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad on Tuesday, ordered yesterday a referendum vote among the members of the two unions as to whether or not to strike. Gen. Mgr. E. A. Gould of the railroad, offered to consider better working conditions, but refused to grant an increase in wages and this proposal was in turn refused by the joint committee. Demands by another committee upon the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific received an answer that the road is willing to grant an increase of wages of 40 per cent, but it cannot better the working conditions. It is probable that a strike vote will be ordered there also.

An agreement as to working conditions was reached between the Baltimore and Ohio Western and a committee from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Engineers. The prospects for an agreement on the wage demands are bright.

STOPS ITCHING AT ONCE

Quite recently a chemist formulated a compound which possesses such soothing and curative properties that, when applied, it stops the itching of eczema, miliaria, hives, etc., immediately. Sufferers who use it are amazed at the rapidity of the relief which follows its use. The skin heals in an astonishingly short time, and all traces of the disease are eradicated. The name of this new remedy is Cadum, and it is sold by all druggists for 10c and 25c. It is also remarkably effective when used for eczema, herpes, pimples, blackheads, psoriasis, itching piles, tetter, salt rheum, and skin diseases generally. A 10c box will verify all these statements.

Was the Guest of The City of Rome

ROME, April 7.—The series of events connected with the cancellation of Mr. Roosevelt's audience with the pope and later the repudiation of the denunciation statement issued by Pastor Tuppole of the American Methodist church at Rome, added interest to the dinner given in Mr. Roosevelt's honor last night in the great hall of the historic Castiglione palace by the municipal authorities, over which Mayor Nathan presided. No reference, however, either directly or indirectly, was made to this subject.

The guests included Premier Tazzoli, Signor Ferrero, under secretary of the foreign office, Signor Ferrero, grand master of the Order of Free Masons, and Ambassador Talamoni.

Mayor Nathan, in proposing the health of ex-President Roosevelt referred to him as "one whose character and work had an effect upon the civil progress of humanity." After mentioning Washington and Lincoln as, respectively, the founder and consolidator of the republic, he characterized Mr. Roosevelt as a "purifier," saying that he had hunted fiercer beasts than during his recent trip in Africa.

"Men of his calibre," said the mayor, "are beyond the limits of country. They belong by right to civilization."

He concluded with a reference to Mr. Roosevelt, as "the fighting philosopher," who is preaching the word of goodness and purity to his people, and he compared the ex-president to Marcus Aurelius.

Mr. Roosevelt, in replying, declared that no civilized man could come to Rome without feeling that he was visiting the cradle of civilization. After expressing deep appreciation for the hospitality shown him here, he spoke of politics which, he said, was so much a matter of genius as of the practical application of the very ordinary qualities of courage, honesty and common sense. The rarest of these, he added, is common sense.

Beware of the man who does not translate his words into deeds," said the ex-president. He announced he was an optimist with regard to the future.

"Twice Italy was at the head of the world," he continued. "First in the days of her glory, when Marcus Aurelius was emperor, and second, during the marvelous reproduction of the life of Florence and Genoa. And now, in the last 60 years, since the battle of Novara, we have seen the wonderful growth which has made Italy what she is and what she will be."

"When the pessimists say that civilization is worn out we can turn to Italy. Hence the entire Occident derives its civilization, and where we don't know whether to admire more the present or what is being prepared for the future."

"In all civilized countries it has been necessary to preserve some barbaric virtues, above all, military strength to oppose any attempt at oppression. Countries must be strong in order to be good and to help the weak against the overbearing."

The ex-president and Mrs. Roosevelt left for Spezia at 11.45 last night. Several hundred people gathered around the train and took part in an enthusiastic demonstration. The American was warmly cheered and there were many cries of "Long Live Roosevelt!" He was obliged to come out on the platform of the special car which had been put at his disposal by the government, and he expressed his thanks to the people of Rome for their generous and unforgettable hospitality.

The vatican yesterday made further representations regarding the cancellation of the audience, but they contained no new points. The vatican insisted especially that Cardinal Merry Del

Val's sole purpose was to avoid if possible a repetition of the Fairbanks incident, in the belief that he could have been justly criticized if a repetition of this had occurred and no previous warning had been issued.

The Italian Historian Guglielmo Ferrero entertained Mr. Roosevelt at lunch, after which the ex-president proceeded to the embassy, where Mr. Roosevelt was the guest of Mrs. Leishman, and from there he visited the Keats Memorial, which was founded principally by Americans. With Signor Ferrero, the grand master of the Free Masons, he discussed Free Masonry in France, in which he has shown great interest and expressed warm sentiments of gratitude and fraternity for the felicitations addressed by the French members of that order.

THE RELEASE OF MRS. KELLEHER.

The release of Mrs. Kelleher, who has been kept in prison for fifteen months on suspicion of murdering a number of her relatives, has caused considerable surprise, although if the woman is not guilty no other disposition of the case would satisfy the ends of justice. The district attorney in favoring her acquittal made a statement that was rather surprising. He said it turns out to be a fact that in this part of the country there is not a human body wherein arsenic could not be found if examined. The contention of the defense, he said, was that arsenic might be absorbed from a renovated mattress on which the deceased persons had slept, or might have been taken into the system in Epsom salts.

The motive of the district attorney in making this statement may have been the lack of evidence to convict, but even so it was the best thing Mr. Higgins could do to give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt. We have had too many expensive murder trials without conviction.

THE SPRINGFIELD TRAGEDY.

It is gratifying to the people of the entire state that the Springfield murderer has been arrested. There is little doubt that the police have got the right man. In fact his confession appears to remove all doubt on that question. The murder was a peculiarly cold-blooded one and of such a character as to arouse the popular mind to a state of intense indignation.

It is rather discreditable to the Springfield police that detectives from outside the city had to be called in to assist in running down the murderer. We presume the insanity plea will be urged in behalf of Spencer when he comes to trial. But so far as can be judged there has been little or no signs of insanity in connection with this man's conduct. He seemed to be a daring desperado, and if that is any proof of insanity then he may urge the plea with confidence. But we do not believe any jury will be swayed by any evidence of the "brain storm" stamp in the Springfield case.

FOR A CONTAGIOUS HOSPITAL.

Mayor Meehan's efforts in favor of the erection of a contagious hospital for Lowell will receive the general approval of the community. A contagious hospital under the control of the city has long been recognized as a public necessity to prevent the spread of such diseases. The isolation of contagious diseases is essential for the protection of the community, and without a hospital under the control of the city we cannot have proper isolation. It is a well known fact that for years contagious diseases have not been properly isolated for lack of a contagious hospital. If such a hospital were available the patients might readily be sent there, and this would protect the neighborhood in which the disease occurs against the danger.

Inasmuch as the law requires that every city shall have a contagious hospital it is to be hoped that some practical steps will be taken to bring about the erection of such a hospital along the lines suggested by Mayor Meehan before the board of charity.

HELP THE CENSUS ENUMERATORS.

On April 15 the census enumerators will start to count the heads in the city and to ask a number of questions that some people may think somewhat impertinent. These men have been carefully selected to perform a very important work for the government, and the information they obtain from each family is confidential and private except that it will be used in statistical form without, however, any reference to the names of the parties who furnish the information. Nobody need, therefore, have any hesitation in answering all the questions set down on the government forms to be propounded by the enumerators.

The information collected will be massed in statistics, showing general results regarding population, births, marriages, deaths and other deductions of a vital nature. The enumerators will also collect valuable information in regard to industries, and the facts collected from individual families will be woven like threads into a web of statistics that will be of great value to the government and to manufacturers in this and other countries.

One important matter of inquiry by the enumerators will be in regard to the number of people who own their homes, the number who have their homes mortgaged and the amount carried on mortgages. On these points as on the others there need be no hesitation in answering all questions fully and accurately. The object is to find out how many families in Massachusetts own their homes and how many are paying off mortgages. This information is of great value for comparison with like information from other states when the facts are reduced to percentages and averages, showing at a glance the general results of a vast amount of labor. Hence it is to be hoped that everything possible will be done to assist the enumerators in getting the necessary facts. One thing of great importance is the accurate count of our population. When the last census was taken we heard a lot of criticism and many allegations that the population of Lowell was set at a figure from 500 to 1000 lower than it should be. Let nobody hide from the enumerators; let nobody give false answers and the results will be correct. Let it be understood also that the information thus gathered cannot be used by the tax collector for the collection of poll taxes. The assessors count the polls for the city; the enumerators for the state. The city treasurer has no access to the data collected by the enumerators. It is foolish, therefore, for anybody to avoid the enumerators under the impression that an interview with one of them means the subsequent collection of a poll tax.

SEEN AND HEARD

Now that the windows in the house we call home have been washed we may see things in a different light.

B. M. Tilton of Tilton Brothers, of Keene, N. H., recently replied to an advertisement in a Boston newspaper which told of an owner's willingness to part with a valuable Boston bull terrier. In response to directions later received Mr. Tilton forwarded a $10 money order and this morning he received a crate containing the dog, for which he paid express of $1.40. The appearance of the animal when released from the box caused a ripple of laughter to pass through the store. The animal appeared to Mr. Tilton to be a vagrant pup of a breed which the new owner has not discerned. After a personal study of the pup's lean ribs, his long curved tail and his general air of dejection, Mr. Tilton decided that the pup was kin to either a sky terrier or an Eskimo dog.

WHERE SURGERY FAILS

CUTTING WON'T REMOVE THE CAUSE OF THE PILES

Piles mean more than merely the pain of the swollen little tumors. There is a condition inside that must be dealt with. Cutting is usually followed with later and worse attacks. A permanent cure can only be made by bettering the condition of the parts and getting a free circulation of the blood.

Hem-Roid cures all kinds of piles by internal action right on the cause. Sold by Carter & Sherburne, Lowell, Mass., and money back if it fails. $1 per bottle. Dr. Leonhardt, Station B, Buffalo, N. Y.

Whitman. Here is a bit of it describing the achievements of John D. Rockefeller and his palatial, written out, without the change of a word, in the approved manner of the bard:

By creative skill they secured from refuse-oil valuable by-products. They invented The huge reservoir for storing oil. The combined pipe-line system which gathers up And carries the natural products, The tank cars which carry the refined products. They created the export trade in oil. Transporting it in ships of their own construction. And selling it in Asia, India, China, Japan, Russia and all Europe. They devised The trading stations, the tank delivery wagons. And used every means to cheapen The product and improve the quality. From 1862 to 1906—forty-four years. The work went on. Thus have the heroes of all times related the great achievements. With the epic quality of this reasoning brief melt the hearts of the supreme court judges as did Othello's story the tender bosom of Desdemona?

PEOPLE OF NOTE

A signal honor to Professor George C. Wilson of Brown University is his election to associate membership in the Institut de Droit International. Professor Wilson, who at Harvard is lecturer on international law, as he also is at the naval war college, is counselor of the navy department. He is recognized as one of the leading authorities on international law in America. He was appointed by President Roosevelt as one of the two representatives of the United States at the international conference on maritime warfare, held recently in London.

Harlow Raymond, who has resigned as superintendent of buildings at Wesleyan college, at Middletown, Ct., after a service covering 46 years, has been known to generations of college men as "Doc." He has been in the service of the university since the senior professor was an undergraduate. He went there at a time when, as he says, "there were two buildings and a little brick one, and where the library now stands, the cows pastured." From the architectural plans, he superintended the building of both Memorial chapel and Judd Hall of Natural Science. Throughout his career "Doc" Raymond has had a most friendly relation to the undergraduates, and he remembers more Wesleyan men than any man living. Mr. Raymond expects to retire to a farm in Languedoc.

Miss Carol Harriman is chairman of the Junior League, which takes an active part in the work of the Normal College Alumnae Settlement house in New York. During the last year the settlement has had 13 resident helpers and 34 non-resident. Forty clubs and societies are carried on. The most recently formed classes teach adults to read and speak English. This work was brought about by the discovery that many Bohemians in the neighborhood had been in this country 20 years without learning English. Last year the settlement sent more than 1000 women and children to the country at the small cost of $115. Some of them were taken on day trips, others for one week or longer.

Mrs. Pauline Steinem has been appointed a trustee of the public library of Toledo, Ohio, for a term of four years. Mayor Whitlock in appointing Mrs. Steinem to the board has given as his reason the belief that the movement to obtain votes for women should be recognized by the appointment of active suffragists to any public offices as possible. Mrs. Steinem takes the place of Mrs. Sarah Bissell, who resigned her first appointment in 1902 and has served ever since only resigning now because of her age.

Camera Users

Before you swallow that Hot Air story of the agents of the "Kodak Trust" investigate it for yourself. The fact that the price of a photographic paper is kept at an exorbitant price by the "Kodak Trust" is not the value of the value of your photos to you in any way and you have brains enough to know it.

THEY SAY

That they use the higher price papers—they use no paper whatever as your precious films or plates left there are dumped into a scalded tin can and the owner of it calls for it in the afternoon and your films are carried to his home and hurriedly done in his spare time and anyone who cares enough about truth in advertising can prove this for themselves.

TRUE FACTS

only are made in my advertisements. Your Brownie or Kodak films left here are finished on the premises in the only perfectly equipped rooms for the purpose in the city by competent photographers of experience. That is the way photo work should be done.

All prints are made on "Argo" paper, your choice of three surfaces: A paper so good in quality that the Trust can't beat it, neither can its restricted agents compete with it in price. Prints on Saturday, 10 per cent. discount; another good thing the "Trust agents" cannot offer you.

fish six days of the week. In my opinion, there is more poison sold in decayed fish in one week in Lowell than in all the milk sold here in a year. I have seen boiled lobsters in windows for sale Saturday night, and some of the same for sale the next week. No lobster is fit to eat forty-eight hours after it is boiled unless it is pickled.

What we need is some one to look after the fish dealers, one who knows what fish is and the law in the matter, and sand enough to enforce the law.

The annual meeting of the Automobile club of America will be held at the club house in New York, Tuesday, April 12, at 9 p. m. The governors of the club have nominated the following ticket to fill the vacancies named: President, Harry Sanderson; first vice president, John E. Borne; second vice president, Robert Lee Morrill; third vice president, Edward Shearson; treasurer, Fins E. Marshall; governors (to serve four years, from April, 1910), Dave H. Morris, Albert F. Shattuck and E. H. Gary; governor (to serve in place of Cornelius Vanderbilt resigned, until April 1912), Alfred Ely; governor (to serve in place of Horace Porter, resigned until April, 1913), George Moore Smith.

Salesmen throughout the country have been sending congratulations to B. F. Hamilton of Saco, Me., who has just attained his ninety-first birthday. Mr. Hamilton was the first merchant to employ salesmen and the people of his town, men and women, boycotted his store in consequence. Many of the leading churchwomen called on him personally and remonstrated earnestly against what they called the sin of placing women in a position of such publicity as behind a counter for the purpose of selling goods.

ABOUT FISH MARKETS

Editor of the Lowell Sun:

Sir:

I notice a good deal in the papers

about pure milk, but fail to see any thing about pure fish. I also notice that Lowell is governed mostly by spasm. A few years ago we had a hog spasm. All hogs must have a galvanized trough to eat from, also silver plated spoons to eat with. That spasm soon passed. Now we are having a cow spasm. All cows must be covered with waterproof, and the milk man must be sterilized. Now when the present spasm passes off, let us hope there will be a fish spasm. A poor milkman is lured into court and fined $50 for putting a pint of water in a can and milk. While fish dealers and meat markets are allowed to sell rotten fish six days of the week. In my opinion, there is more poison sold in decayed fish in one week in Lowell than in all the milk sold here in a year. I have seen boiled lobsters in windows for sale Saturday night, and some of the same for sale the next week. No lobster is fit to eat forty-eight hours after it is boiled unless it is pickled.

What we need is some one to look after the fish dealers, one who knows what fish is and the law in the matter, and sand enough to enforce the law.

JOHN E. GILMAN

Boomed as Next Commander-in-Chief of G. A. R.

BOSTON, April 7.—John E. Gilman, at present on the defensive against charges by the finance commission of mismanagement of the Soldiers' Relief department, was boomed yesterday by the Grand Army state encampment in Faneuil hall as the next national commander-in-chief of the army.

SICK CHILDREN; WORMS THE CAUSE

Parents Do Not Know It.

Three-fourths of the sickness of childhood come from worms. Thousands of children suffer from worms and their parents do not know it. Watch carefully for any symptoms like these: sunken eyes, pallid nose and lips, dim eyes, itching nose, blot, pale, cheeks of uneven color, swollen lips, bluish pallor around the mouth, bad breath, choking, swallowing, starting or groaning in sleep, hacking cough, constant thirst, swollen abdomen, bed-wetting, milky urine, cross and peevish disposition, greedy appetite or none at all, vomiting.

Knowing that the child has worms you can treat it at once yourself with a reliable vegetable mixture called Fessenden's Worm Expeller. The price of it is only 25 cents. You will forget that small cost for the sake of your child.

Remember the name—Fessenden's Worm Expeller. In some towns every druggist has it for sale. In every town in the state you will find it at some good drug store.

Start giving it to the child at once going by the simple directions printed on the package.

You ought to drop whatever you are doing and go and get some at once.

This boom was launched by William Olin, secretary of state, immediately after a wild burst of enthusiasm over the drawing up and passing of resolutions demanding that Virginia withdraw the statue of Lee from the National Hall of Fame at Washington, and petitioning congress to order the removal of the statue if Virginia failed to act.

The start of this denunciation of the glorification of a confederate general was made by retiring Department Commander John L. Parker in his address. Incoming Commander J. Willard Brown increased the excitement by drawing up resolutions.

The entire body of delegates arose as one man, cheering wildly. A bugler leaped to his feet, sounded the first notes of "America," and the resolutions were passed with the enthusiastic singing of the national hymn.

The fostering of the feeling of veneration for the Union and for its preservers, which found expression in the attack on the Lee statue, was the keynote of the encampment. It found further expression last night at the honorary banquet tendered by the National Staff association to Commander-in-Chief Samuel R. Van Sant, in the speeches favoring and strengthening the movement for "patriotic instruction" from the G. A. R. to address school children the Friday before Memorial day.

After two hotly contested ballots, George A. Hosley, past commander of Post 11, Charlestown, was elected department junior vice-commander, the only contested place, at the close of the afternoon session of the state encampment of the G. A. R.

On the final ballot the vote stood 301 for Hosley, 51 for Maj. Wm. J. Gillespie of Post 7, and 117 for Isaac C. Day of Post 47 of Haverhill.

J. WILLARD BROWN, NEW COMMANDER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MASSACHUSETTS, G. A. R.

The election of junior vice-commander followed immediately after the uncontested election of J. Willard Brown of East Boston to the position of department commander to succeed John L. Parker.

Granville Clark Fiske of Post 18 of Ashland was also elected without opposition to the position vacated by Commander Brown, that of department senior vice-commander.

The encampment opened in Faneuil hall at 10 a. m. yesterday, and was attended by Commander-in-Chief Samuel R. Van Sant, who was escorted from his train to the hall by an escort of honor from Post 11, Charlestown.

The encampment was called to order by Commander J. L. Parker, with prayers by Chaplain George E. Lovejoy. Reports were read and Commander Parker read his address.

The point in this speech which was received with enthusiasm was the attack against congress for placing the statue of Robert E. Lee in the uniform of a confederate general in the national capitol.

EVASDED THE FARE

Man Ran Up Taxicab Bill of $171

BOSTON, April 6.—A supposedly wealthy New York man who "side-stepped" from a hackdoor of a Waltham hotel last night in order to avoid paying the modest sum of $171 for taxicab fare from the Metropolis, was apparently ignorant of the Massachusetts laws. The supreme court recently decided that no law compelling patrons of taxicabs to pay fares for their rides, exist on the statute books of the state.

Fred Smith, New England manager of a New York auto car concern, is anxious to find a man who engaged a taxicab at 79th street and First avenue, New York, last Friday night for a trip to Bridgeport. The stranger spent money freely and the driver, supposing him to be wealthy, did not demand when their trip was extended over several days and as far as Boston. At Waltham the passenger stealthily disappeared through the back door of a hotel, leaving the chauffeur without funds in a strange town. The driver and taxicab were forwarded to New York by steamer today.

PAINT ECONOMY

True economy in paint lies not so much in the saving in first cost as in saving in the cost per year. In other words paint material that may cost less may not last as long as another.

We sell paint material that makes the cost of the job less in the long run.

SALEM WHITE LEAD with the Dutch Boy Painter on the side of the keg to guarantee its purity and pure linseed oil makes the "cheaper-in-the-long-run" kind of paint.

We can suggest harmonious color schemes, too.

TURKISH TROOPS

ENABLED TO CHECK CLANSMEN AT PRISTINA

PRISTINA, Turkey, April 7.—The arrival of heavy reinforcements has enabled the Turkish troops temporarily to check the advance of the clansmen who have been threatening Pristina, but it was only after severe fighting for two days in the vicinity of the river Lab during which the losses on both sides were considerable that the government troops were able to bar the victorious march of the Albanians.

The latter are awaiting reinforcements from the clansmen to the southwest when it is expected that the fighting will be resumed.

He advocates the establishment of a military college similar in ideals and practice to West Point.

The Diocesan house conference nominated Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann of

Somerville Woman, an Invalid, Left About $900,000

BOSTON, April 7.—The will of the late Martha R. Hunt of Somerville, filed in the Middlesex county probate court yesterday, disposes of an estate estimated at about $900,000, giving $284,000 to charitable, educational or other public institutions, about $100,000 to relatives and friends and dividing the residue equally among five public beneficent institutions.

DEPENDABLE PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not but have been popular for thirty years and today hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

ago. Though for 40 years past she had been confined to her home by feeble health, she managed her affairs so well that her inheritance had increased fourfold at the time of her death. She lived a simple, unostentatious life, giving generously to many worthy objects from year to year. The largest single bequest, $105,000, goes to the American Unitarian association, $40,000 of it for the general fund, $50,000 for the ministerial fund and $20,000 as residuary legatees after two life annuities. The next largest bequest, $15,000 each, go to the Somerville library, which gets $12,000 for the permanent fund and $3,000 for works of art; Winchester home for aged women, Charlestown; Tuskegee institute, Somerville home for aged people, Concord; and the Cottage hospital, Baldwinville. Beneficiaries to $10,000 each are Calhoun colored school, Ala.; First Parish church, Concord; home for incurables, Dorchester; Lend a Hand society; Massachusetts general hospital, to be devoted to amusement and entertainment of patients at McLean asylum; Massachusetts Indian mission, residuary legatees; after-life annuitant; Perkins institution for the blind; Willard hospital, Bedford; First Unitarian church, Somerville; half the sum to go for care of children. The Somerville associated charities is to receive $7000 and $500 each will go to the Concord free library, Charlestown infants' school and children's home, Massachusetts society for aiding discharged convicts, Second Unitarian church, Somerville, and temporary home for discharged female prisoners, Dedham. Harvard street church, Charlestown, Somerville Day Nursery and Winter Hill, Somerville, Universalist church, are each to receive $2000. The town of Concord is to have $1000 for the repair of the old burial ground. The residuary legatees, between whom an equal division is finally to be made, are the Massachusetts society for the prevention of cruelty to children, the Massachusetts society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, the Humane society of Massachusetts, Hampton normal and agricultural institute and the New England Watch and Ward society. The executors named are Albion A. Perry, ex-mayor of Somerville; Edwin A. Stone of the same city and George F. Tufts. Mr. Tufts for personal reasons has declined to serve.

NARROW ESCAPE

Woman and Children Had Close Call

MANCHESTER, N. H., April 7.—Mrs. William M. Henry of 374 East Spruce street and her three small children had a narrow escape from death in a fire which gutted the rear apartment and attic of their home yesterday morning.

They were alone in the house, as Mr. Henry, who is a commercial traveler, was absent in the west on a business trip and the family of Elmer E. Jondrow, who occupy the lower part of the house, were visiting in Canada. Mrs. Henry and children escaped in their night clothes while the house was in flames.

Fortunately her three children, Mills, aged 11, Mervon 10 and Leonard 6, were sleeping in the same room and she hurried them to the stairs and they were rescued.

Mills Henry provided a hero. "I'll pull the alarm, mama," he cried. "I can do it." Barefooted and clothed only in his nightgown he dashed down Spruce street and through Canton to Lake Avenue, at which box 241 is situated. He looked for a store, but saw none and smashed his tiny fist into the glass regardless of cuts. Snatching the key he opened the door and pulled the hook.

Kind neighbors gave Mrs. Henry and her children shelter. A providential incident saved the two boys. They usually sleep in a rear bedroom but their mother got nervous after the Jondrows went away and moved the boys into her own room to sleep. Their bedroom was burned out and they would undoubtedly have perished had they been there.

The property loss amounts to $4000, including building and contents. The house was owned by Albert L. Duke of Beacon street.

THE AMES BOOM

"Joe" Legare is Working Hard

BOSTON, April 7.—Secretary Legare, official custodian of the Buller Ames boom for United States senator, which came to a rather sudden end in January, is coming back to Boston full of hope and with a purpose. The latter is stated by Senator Nelson to be the advancement of Congressman Ames' senatorial interests.

Senator Nelson's enthusiasm for Congressman Ames is just as ardent and glowing as ever. He says the boom is growing so fast that the presence of Secretary Legare is actually demanded. If a contest poster of the recruits is to be taken for the commander-in-chief, Essex county is still safe, according to Senator Nelson, and he will so report to the congressman's secretary.

The latter left Washington last night, and arrived in Boston this morning, and the next visit he will make will be to the state house. After a conference with Senator Nelson and Representative Stevens of Braintree, who has charge of the house end of the Ames' campaign, he will journey onward to Lowell, where some hopeful republicans are waiting to know if Mr. Ames is to be a candidate for congress in the district, as well as a candidate for senator to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge.

GRAND JURY

REPORTED NUMBER OF INDICTMENTS AT CONCORD

CONCORD, N. H., April 7.—The grand jury in the superior court reported 18 indictments yesterday afternoon and though none appeared in the list in the Fellows murder case it is believed that two persons were indicted. Several hours were spent in examining of Mrs. Fellows, her daughter Mrs. Albert Ball, wife of the man who had worked on the murdered man's farm; Louis Clark, a clerk in his grocery; and John B. Hammond, a neighbor of the Fellows family. County Solicitor Clifford refused to state whether indictments had been found in the case or not.

"I will say, however, that two indictments were found, which the court ordered kept secret by my request." When asked when they will be made public Solicitor Clifford said: "Not until after I get in touch with Atty.-Gen. Eastman." The police officials disclaim all knowledge of arrests made or intended.

REV. DR. McCONNELL

Before the Y. M. C. A. on
Civic Righteousness

Dr. Francis J. McConnell, president of De Pauw university, Indiana, gave the first lecture in this season's Y. M. C. A. Bible course at the First Baptist church, last night. His subject was "The Bible and Civic Righteousness." He said in part:

"The application of the gospel to affairs of communities is no more difficult than its application to the affairs of individual life. First of all, it is the Christian's duty to cultivate more and more, just a plain, everyday spirit of thoughtfulness."

"TOWN AND COUNTRY"

Property owners who, several years ago, had their buildings painted with "Town and Country" Paint, are now making assertions like the above.

C. B. COBURN CO.

a spirit of thoughtfulness. Because we cannot master some technical problems, we should learn to have confidence in those who can. We are suffering a great deal from judgment and reliance upon impulse, that is doing us a great deal of harm. "It will not do to rely merely upon a spirit of good will. If a tramp stands at my door, it may be the best thing I can do for him, to send him along. We cannot solve these problems, and the only thing we can do is to trust those who are experts. In your Y. M. C. A. work, you should get the best man you can, and then trust him."

"Take the problem of the water supply. The old oaken bucket won't do in these days, because there are many people getting around, and the old oaken bucket is apt to be loaded. So it is with a great many social problems. If our impulse carries us far enough to pay an expert to do the work, well and good."

"We cannot settle the tariff question merely by leaving it to the people. We must leave it to a commission of trained experts."

"The only way you can deal with some problems of civic life, is to trust some expert who has made a study of the situation. "Not only do we need the spirit of thoughtfulness, but we need more and more reliance upon that old-fashioned something which we call good manners; a thoughtful consideration for other folks; really looking upon other people as if they were entitled to a square deal; getting rid somewhat of our brusqueness, and of our disregard of others' rights. The immediate decisive factor that brought about the great revolutions in the world's history was bad manners on the part of somebody. In the days of the French revolution there had been economic outrage for many years; but what brought about the break was the haughtiness and the bad manners and contempt that those of the old regime showed toward the common people. I think if our churches today would preach more and more the quality that certain kind of consideration for the rights of others, that simple, old-time doctrine would do a great deal of good. The trouble is that men get abysses between them. The man newly come to wealth is apt to have bad manners. He shows his contempt for those around him, and we have the beginnings of trouble. I have often thought of the part that women play as economic factors. The desires of women for luxury makes the struggle for wealth all the more intense."

"There is no patient scheme that will lead us out of our difficulties. Every man needs to be on his guard to see that he does himself, the very best that he can. The man that is an employer on a small scale, need not say very much about the trusts if he himself is not doing what is square. "We need a new civic conscience; we need to rebuke men that have control of great corporations, and keep them in a wrong way. But remember that when every man down along the line is doing the same thing, it will not do merely to strike at the man who happens to be doing it on a larger scale. Very often a man starts with a certain method in a country store and works it higher and higher, until he becomes a public menace. If we could get down to the bottom of things, the great concerns are often not so great offenders as the smaller concerns. But the good, pious man who goes to church is willing to have the application made to the man higher up, but not to have it made to him, farther down the line. If every man in business will set himself to work to make his a straight business, we can bring in the kingdom of God at a great deal more quickly. Let us not say that the only great sinners are those that carry on their business on a large scale. Let us not concern ourselves too much with John D. Rockefeller; let us concern ourselves a little more with John Smith, especially if John Smith has a wife and a family. We need to train our understanding in this matter more and more."

"We do not always see how subtle temptation is. I know a clergyman who wrote an article for the Forum, in which he made a defense of the trusts. Nobody asked him to do it; but a few weeks later there came to him a letter from a trust magnate, expressing his appreciation and enclosing a check for $200. The man took it, and kept it. He wrote the article without any thought of receiving that $200; but is there any danger of that minister hanging his mind on the trust question after that? It is probable that the man who sent the check wanted to see to it that that writer's ability was packed down safely on his side."

"Another man made a defense, in a sermon, of a great railroad system. His remarks were quoted in the newspapers, and there came to the minister a pass from the railroad company. He took the pass, and was much pleased about it. If he had known that he was going to get the pass he would not have preached in that way; but since he did not know it, he took the pass; and he is not very likely to change his mind on the railroad question."

"I suppose there are very few people in the world actually bribed outright. Things are made pleasant for a man, and without asking for things, he finds himself practically bribed to that side. If we could rid some of these moral questions of their economic side, we could get along much more rapidly."

"I wrote an article some time ago in which I tried to point out that in dealing with the liquor question, the great trouble is not so much with the man selling rum or the man wanting a drink, as with the allied interests. I got a letter from a man who wanted to know how much the whiskey trust paid me for writing that article. The letter-head showed that the man was in the glass business. I suppose he did not think that I, as a minister, would have sense enough to see through that. There is nothing wrong with the glass business, of course; but we can see how it might have a close connection with the liquor question. "I knew a man once who was very rabid in his utterances against the liquor traffic, until there came into his possession a vineyard, in California. I never saw a man's eyes opened so suddenly."

"Until our conscience is aroused, on these things, there is no need for us to try to do much. Civic righteousness is simply righteousness applied to civic affairs. The Bible is full of it. I do not believe that any man would have to go out of business, because he does his business honestly. For the time being, he may have to sacrifice something, but I do not believe he will have to quit his business. There is enough chance in this world for a man to do business honestly. We may have to take a little loss, but we are not sent into this world to get it all. We are sent here to do business honestly, and to take what comes to us. There is no reason why a man should make a tangled situation an excuse for wrong doing."

MUSICAL COMEDY

At St. Joseph's College
Last Evening

The delightful two-act play, "La Fille du Sonneur de Cloches" was cleverly presented by local amateurs at St. Joseph's college under the auspices of L'Association de Notre Dame de Bonsecours. Mrs. Marie H. Jacques had general charge and Mr. Wilfred Caisse, Jr. directed. Those acting were Mrs. Omer Smith, Miss Antoinette Montmarquet, Miss Yvonne Montmarquet, Mrs. Octave Labrecque, Miss Loda Delisle, Angelina Blouin, Adele Roy, Albina Jodoin and Gracelin Dupuis. Pretty village maidens, who sang and danced, were impersonated by Misses Anna Martel, Fleur-Ange Gignac, Loretta Ryan, Berenice Roy, Yvonne Belleville, Georgiana Blouin, Ruth Delisle and Priscilla Demers.

In the entr'acte, Misses Lillian Chaloux, a graceful young miss with a sweet voice, sang and danced, accompanied at the piano by Miss Winifred Chaloux. Mr. Philippe T. Levesque also sang, accompanied by Mr. Arthur J. Martel. Warm encores were given both numbers.

The Canadian orchestra, E. Champagne, leader, was in attendance and played a delightful program. The officers of the A. G. Cadets served as ushers.

ANNUAL MEETING
OF FIRST BAPTIST SOCIETY HELD
LAST NIGHT

The annual meeting of the First Baptist society was held in the church last night. Mr. A. G. Pollard was chosen moderator.

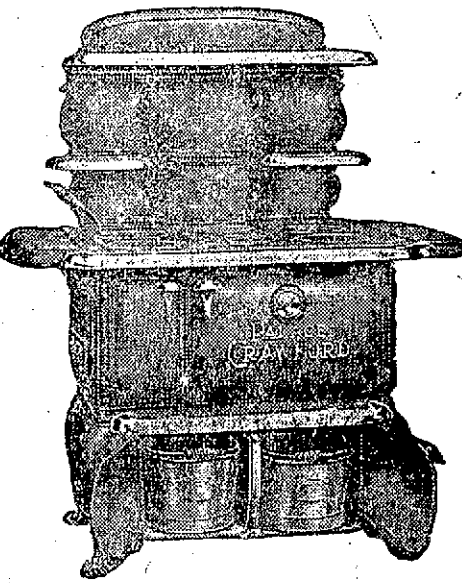

The annual reports of the assessors, treasurer and music committee were read, showing a favorable condition; the society's year closed with all bills paid and a balance of $184 in the treasury, besides the $200 to be expended in repairs upon the lot in the cemetery, owned by the society. Officers were elected as follows: Clerk, Edward W. Trull; treasurer, George F. Wagner; assessors, Henry C. Fuller, Frederick J. Fleming, Frank A. Bowen; auditors, Arthur J. French, Harry Stocks; committee on music, Wm. T. Sheppard, Harry Stocks, Geo. H. Taylor.

Appropriations were voted as follows: Public supply, $300; and one month's vacation, $1350; care of building, a sum sufficient. It was voted that the pastor, Rev. S. W. Cummings be given leave of absence one Sunday in May to attend the World's Sunday school convention in Washington and that $50 be appropriated for his expenses.

The Single Damper of the Crawford affords absolute fire and oven control by one motion—slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven of the Crawford has cup-joint heat flues which heat everywhere alike and make it the quickest and surest of bakers.

The Two Hods (patented) in the base—one for ashes instead of the old clumsy ash pan—one for coal, is a great trouble-saving feature.
